Mobutu Regime Faces Collapse

Lumumba's Return To Power Seen

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Col. Joseph Mobutu virtually abandoned his five-week-old military regime Saturday while his enemies redoubled efforts to bring Communist-leaning Patrice Lumumba back to power.

Mobutu, exhausted by his fight against opposition from all sides and rumbling revolt in his own army, announced a face-saving trip to New York and Western capitals next week to seek "understanding" for his almost defunct anti-Communist regime.

With the country torn by tribal warfare and near anarchy, the pro-Western group which ousted Lumumba rapidly withered away and the ex-premier's return to power seemed only a matter of time.

The U.N. Congo command openly pressed for "a return to legal democratic processes."

With an impassioned parliamentary majority favoring Lumumba, this clearly implied that the United Nations—despite its theoretical noninterference in the Congo's domestic affairs—prefers Lumumba to the present military regime.

Mobutu tried for weeks to persuade India's Rejeshwar Dayal, head of the U.N. Congo operation, to give official recognition to his provisional government of college graduates and to sanction the army's suspension of the Lumumba Parliament.

Exasperated by consistent refusal, Mobutu slammed the door on Dayal and said he would appeal directly to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

At the same time, Dayal received Leopoldville provincial President Cleophas Kamitatu, one of Lumumba's most persistent supporters, and encouraged him to make another attempt to reconcile Lumumba with President Joseph Kasavubu.

Kasavubu, who fired Lumumba on Sept. 5, has lived in virtual isolation ever since and failed to give his active support to any of the groups trying to get the government machinery functioning without Lumumba.

There are indications that Kasavubu—dismayed by the ever-increasing chaos—might be less opposed to a reconcilation than he was a month ago. And Lumumba has indicated he would be less eager to call in "technical as-

Red China's Leaders Kowtow To Mr. K

LONDON (AP) — Mao Tze-tung humbly recognized the Soviet Union Saturday as the world's greatest Communist power and offered to soft-pedal his ideological quarrel with Premier Khrushchev in the interest of Red solidarity.

The Chinese Communist leader and his three top associates in Peiping sent a message to Moscow which stopped just short of bowing completely to Khrushchev's will.

Their telegram, addressed to Khrushchev and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev, was broadcast by Moscow radio. It spoke of "the eternal inviolable fraternal friendship" of the peoples of Red China and the Soviet Union and called for Communist countries to "rally together even closer and intensify the struggle against imperialism."

Mao almost seemed to buy Khrushchev's theory that war has become unthinkable in this nuclear age and that communism, in any event, is strong enough now to defeat capitalism by competition without shooting.

But this part of the message contained a hedge. As worded, it was a sort of Chinese puzzle capable of various interpretations.

Mao did not specifically acknowledge that war has become an impractical instrument of national policy in the H-bomb age.

Mao regards himself as a supporter of fundamental Leninist doctrine. He has described war as an inevitable part of communism's march to world domination. And, what is even graver, he has suggested that Khrushchev's revisionist doctrines tend to weaken the revolutionary drive of the Communist world.

Others who signed the message with Mao were Liu Shao-chi, Chu Teh and Chou En-lai. Their telegram was in response to congratu-

Finch-Tregoff Jury Adjourns Until Monday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury in the second Finch murder trial deliberated several hours Saturday, reported it still had not reached a verdict and adjourned until Monday.

It was the fourth day of deliberations in the retrial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, 23. They are charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the shooting of the doctor's wife Barbara last year. The jury at their first trial could not reach a verdict.

SIGNALS CROSSED

JACKSONVILLE, Ore. (AP) — Republican candidate Edwin Burno thinks his opponent, Democratic Rep. Charles O. Porter, must have gotten his mail solicitation list mixed up.

Durno got a letter asking him to contribute to Porter's campaign. He gave Porter a $1 check. It was a safe gift. Porter endorsed it and handed it back.

Kennedy Demands 5th Debate

EN ROUTE WITH KENNEDY (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy opened a home-stretch drive through four key Midwestern states Saturday with another demand that Vice President Richard M. Nixon meet him in a fifth debate.

"There remain vital issues between us," Kennedy told a shopping center crowd in a St. Louis suburb, "and the country is entitled to have them thoroughly aired."

Kennedy flew to St. Louis from New York after his fourth TV-radio debate with Nixon, arriving shortly before dawn. During the coming week the Democratic presidential nominee is scheduled to swing through Missouri, Kansas, Wisconsin and Illinois.

"There will be no more days off in these last 17 days of the campaign," he said at a breakfast meeting. "And that's the way I think it should be."

The Massachusetts senator and members of his staff, appeared jubilant over the results of Friday's debate with the Republican candidate.

Kennedy immediately followed it up with a call for another face to face meeting. He told a crowd at the Northland Shopping Center in St. Louis County:

"The issues in this campaign must not be hidden in the shadows of ambiguity or clouds of rhetoric. They must be brought into sharp and clear focus so that the American people can make an intelligent choice.

"I hope that the vice president will consider my proposal for a fifth debate in the closing days of the campaign."

Missouri Democrats assured Kennedy that the state's 13 electoral votes would go into his column on election day. But Kennedy himself said at a breakfast

Report Sighting Red MIG Planes In Cuban Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several reports have reached Washington of the sighting of Communist-made MIG fighter planes in the area of Cuba.

U.S. officials said Saturday they have not yet obtained conclusive evidence that such jet warplanes from the Communist bloc have arrived in Cuba, but experts believe it likely.

If proof is obtained in time, the United States may include it in material used at the United Nations to counter Cuba's pending charges of aggression by the United States.

Word also has been received here of mass shipments of arms to Cuba, mainly from Czechoslovakia, for the pro-Communist regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Shipments over the past few months are said to include rifles, machine pistols, mortars, artillery up to medium weight field pieces, ammunition and helicopters.

Exact amounts are not known here. The arms cargoes have been unloaded from ships under heavy security, including use of the Soviet ship crews instead of Cuban longshoremen.

Reports of MIG sightings given most credence have been of planes in the air over Cuba and adjacent waters.

U.S. Can't Settle Its Differences With Soviet Through Agreements, Lodge Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge said Saturday America can't settle its differences with the Soviet Union through agreements. The struggle against communism will be won only by stimulating world enthusiasm for the American way of life, he said.

The Republican vice presidential nominee added that America's best hope of keeping the cold war from turning hot is to make the Communists realize that "World War III would involve their destruction."

Lodge, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, expressed his views in two local television interviews taped for later showing.

Asked how he viewed the possibility of reaching future agreements with the Communists, he replied: "You're not going to do it by agreements. We must make it by the promise of the American Revolution so glowing that our ideal that all men are created equal will be more attractive than the Communist way of life."

The nominee said he does not see the slightest possibility of Red China's being admitted to the United Nations "unless they change their ways." But if this should happen, he went on, he would not be in favor of withdrawing from that organization, a possibility U.S. Ambassador James Wadsworth suggested recently.

"If we were defeated, my inclination would be to stay on and fight another day," Lodge said.

He assailed the decision of the Communist bloc in the United Nations in withholding financial support of the U.N. action in the Congo, saying they have "welched consistently on their obligations."

The nominee said the ratio of world power has tilted against the United States since the end of World War II because we helped rebuild the ravaged countries of Europe and East Asia and because Russia developed nuclear capacity.

But he said world prestige is based on what other people think of a country's good word and noble motives and he added, "We are high there."

Lodge said he is convinced Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's recent table-pounding antics in the United Nations resulted from lies he received from subordinates who were afraid to tell him the true state of affairs.

He said Khrushchev is "not a clown, but a very bright and clever perspicacious man" and that he was seeking to destroy the United Nations and its secretary-general.

U.S. Faces Early Showdown With Soviet On Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — A crisis in the nuclear test talks with Russia early next year now appears inevitable on the basis of statements made by the presidential candidates and information available from the State Department.

Both Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy have called for a showdown in the Geneva nuclear test talks. Each apparently regards an effort to bring the negotiations to the point of decision as one of the more urgent tasks of the new administration.

These points were sharply developed in Friday night's Kennedy-Nixon radio-TV debate, which produced only minor differences of approach on the nuclear test issue.

Kennedy and Nixon clearly showed doubt that the negotiations which began at Geneva Oct. 31, 1958, will produce any major breakthrough toward a nuclear test ban treaty between now and the advent of the new administration Jan. 20.

With some variation as to timing and technique, they were in agreement that the next president, unless the talks start moving toward a quick conclusion, will have to face up to the problem of resuming underground nuclear weapons explosions, lest the Russians, by cheating on the present moratorium, forge ahead in the nuclear arms race.

Nixon said Friday night he has decided "the Soviet Union is actually filibustering" in the two-year-old Geneva conference. He has also concluded, he said, "that they may be cheating." By that he meant the Soviets may be secretly testing weapons despite a publicly announced stoppage of tests about the time the negotiations opened two years ago. The United States and Britain suspended tests at the same time.

Nixon said that in order to "break the Soviet filibuster" he thought the man who wins the election Nov. 8 should immediately sit down with President Eisenhower and work out a timetable

Ike, Nixon Speak At Rally In New York Nov. 2

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower announced Saturday he and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Republican candidate for the White House, will speak at a New York political rally Nov. 2. Their talks will be carried nationwide on television and radio.

Eisenhower made the announcement to newsmen as he started a round of golf at the Eldorado Country Club course. He added that Nixon's running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, also will be on hand for the big rally in Manhattan's Coliseum six days before the election.

The President also said he, Nixon and probably Lodge will ride together in a motorcade through New York's streets in advance of the rally in a major effort to win the state's rich prize of 45 electoral votes for the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

"I am going into the political field," Eisenhower told reporters after calling them to his side on the practice green at the plush Eldorado Club.

Eisenhower is scheduled to resume his tour Monday morning, flying then to Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio, Tex. From there he will go by automobile just south of the border to Ciudad Acuna in Mexico for a brief meeting with that country's president, Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

The two presidents will be joined for that conference by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

After the meeting, Eisenhower will fly to Houston, Tex., for a speech that evening at Rice University. He is scheduled to travel back to Washington Tuesday.

Ships Collide On Mississippi, At Least Nine Killed, 25 Hurt

BURAS, La. (AP) — The Alcoa Corsair, steaming down the Mississippi River bound for the Caribbean, collided with an Italian freighter in the gloomy predawn hours Saturday, killing at least nine persons and injuring more than 25.

Most of the dead and injured were believed to have been aboard the Alcoa Corsair, a 455-foot passenger and freight ship making its last tourist run because of declining patronage.

Officers aboard the Italian ship, the 3,796-ton Lorenzo Marcello, said they had no reports of anyone injured.

The ships collided near Buras, an orange-growing center on the river about 50 miles south of New Orleans on the way to the mouth of the Mississippi.

There was no immediate explanation of the collision, but authorities in Plaquemines Parish said visibility might have been poor because of fog patches along the mile-wide river.

Identification on those believed dead was available on only two of the victims.

Naomi Gorman of Kenner, La., became hysterical when told her husband, a waiter on the Corsair, was among the dead.

"No, no, no," she screamed. "Why, oh God?"

C. H. Colwell, 63, Pasadena, Calif., was dead when rescuers finally reached him after an hour and a half battle.

Colwell was hidden in the wreckage, crew messman Leo Trahan said.

"Half his face was gone," Trahan said. "His muscles were all exposed. He was gone."

The Alcoa Steamship Co. listed as other passengers who were dead: Virginia Kirschmeier, 47, Arcadia, Calif.; Helen Fox, 53, Pasadena, Calif., and Frances C. Ladd, 53, Riverside, Ill. Listed as missing was Otto P. Walters, 61, Pasadena.

Four crewmen listed as dead were Edward W. Kretschke, Bridgeport, Conn.; John Gorman, New Orleans; Walter B. Orman, Slidell, and Herbert J. Sullivan, New Orleans.

One of the injured persons died later at the hospital, but identification was not immediately established.

Helicopters flew the injured to the U.S. Public Health Service hospital at New Orleans. The Alcoa Corsair's captain sent out an emergency plea for ambulances and basket-type stretchers to take the injured from the ship, anchored in midstream with a yawning hole on its right side, just to

IUE Ends Strike Against GE

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Union of Electrical Workers ended its 21-day-old strike against the General Electric Co. Saturday night.

Federal mediators announced the settlement after six hours of talks with both sides.

Some 61,000 GE workers affected by the strike are expected to return to work Monday.

Union and company negotiators agreed to a three-year contract effective at Midnight Sunday.

It provides for an immediate 3 per cent wage increase.

In addition, the union has 30 days to take one of three options.

The first would provide an additional 3 per cent wage increase in April 1962, an eighth paid holiday, and a fourth week of vacation after 25 years.

The second would provide a 4 per cent increase in April 1962 without additional holiday or vacation benefits.

The third would provide only for a wage reopener clause in April 1962.

Says His Call For U.S.-Backed Revolt Shocking, Reckless

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in his sharpest attack so far, said Saturday that Sen. Kennedy's stand on Cuba "raises a serious question as to whether he has the balanced judgement to be president in this critical period of the 60s."

According to Nixon, Kennedy is "so rash and impulsive that Americans can not sleep well at night."

Nixon put out a two-page statement attacking Kennedy on what was said in their television debate Friday night.

Nixon contended that Kennedy's views could lead to a direct clash with the Soviet Union if the Democratic nominee's views were followed.

"Senator Kennedy's call for U.S. government support of a revolution in Cuba," Nixon said, "is the most shockingly reckless proposal ever made in our history by a presidential candidate during a campaign. This incident alone shows an immaturity, a rashnses, a lack of understanding and an irresponsibility," which Nixon said raised questions about Kennedy's judgment.

"The most dangerous implication which can flow from Sen. Kennedy's recommendation," Nixon said, "if he does not immediately withdraw it, is that this is a direct invitation for the Soviet Union to intervene militarily on the side of Castro. This gives them the excuse they have been waiting for."

Nixon claimed that Kennedy's stand is an expressed invitation to Russia to enter into Cuban affairs.

"If they do come in," Nixon said, "the result can only mean a civil war in Cuba which the United States could not avoid entering."

The result could easily be spread into the world war that every American of both parties wants to avoid."

Nixon obviously was elated at the Cuban issue.

Herbert G. Klein, his press secretary, said that Nixon had trouble sleeping Friday night and that he called in his secretary to dictate the statement he issued Saturday.

The plane which brought Nixon to the Philadelphia area from New York was delayed for 40 minutes while Nixon and his aides polished the statement.

Invasion Fever Mounts In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Invasion fever mounted in Cuba Saturday as Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government and the U.S. ambassador exchanged new charges involving reported preparations for an attack on Cuba.

U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal notified the Cuban Foreign Office he had reports that several Cuban transport planes at the San Antonio de los Banos airbase near here had been painted with American insignia and flags for unexplained reasons.

Carlos Olivares, acting Cuban foreign minister, rejected this report in a strongly worded note saying it only proves that the United States is engaged in espionage in Cuba.

Olivares termed the U.S. note "malicious and false" and the statements it made "senseless and ridiculous and inconceivable."

Behind the exchange of notes lay fear on the American side that Castro's government is using the U.S. insignia as part of an attempt to involve the United States in some embarrassing maneuver. The Cubans already have claimed U.S. warplanes are being concentrated in Guatemala to help insurgents invade Cuba.

R. Wigglesworth U.S. Ambassador To Canada, Dies

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Richard B. Wigglesworth, 69, ambassador to Canada since 1958, died at a Boston hospital Saturday of a circulatory accident. He has been hospitalized for two days.

Ambassador Wigglesworth had been a practicing attorney in Massachusetts and spent much of his life in government service.

A Republican, he was appointed to fill a U.S. House of Representatives vacancy left by the death of Louis A. Frothingham in 1928. In 1929, he won election from the 14th Massachusetts District. He was elected to 73rd Congress from 13th Massachusetts District and stayed with the national body until the 85th Congress.

Prior to his congressional service, he had been a special counsel to the assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of foreign loans, payment and securities of the World War I debt commissions. He served in this post from 1922 to 1924.

He became assistant to the agent general for reparations payments in Berlin in 1924 and stayed with that post until 1927. He then became general counsel and Paris representative for the organizations created under the Dawes plan from 1927 to 1928.

He married Florence Joyes Booth in 1931 and the couple had three daughters.

Ambassador Wigglesworth graduated from Milton Academy, Milton, Mass., in 1908 and from Harvard College in 1912, Harvard Law School in 1916.

Atlanta Mayor Seeks Solution To Negro Sit-Ins

ATLANTA (AP)—Negro leaders agreed Saturday to stop all lunch counter sit-in demonstrations in Atlanta for a 30-day period while Mayor William B. Hartsfield tries to work out a settlement between the Negroes and merchants.

Hartsfield, who has absolute power of pardon in city offenses, ordered the immediate release of 22 Negroes and one white youth serving 10-day sentences for disturbing the peace, a city violation, during demonstrations Thursday. The 30-day cooling off period was made contingent on release of these prisoners.

Thirty-nine other Negroes, including integrationist Martin Luther King Jr., are held in Fulton County jail on $500 bond each awaiting trial on state charges arising from the demonstrations. Hartsfield said he would seek aid Monday from Atlanta merchants and state and county officials to have these 39 released.

The 30 still in jail were arrested on charges of violating the state antitrespass law. All pleaded innocent when they were arraigned. Maximum penalty on the state charge is 18 months imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Approximately 60 Negro leaders met with Hartsfield at a closed meeting.

Birthplace Of Pope John Has Changed Little In 78 Years

SOTTO IL MONTE, Italy (AP)—Here, where P pe John XXIII was born 78 years ago, chickens cluck in the narrow streets.

Little has changed since the village's most eminent son became supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church and spiritual leader of half a billion people through the world.

His election brings a few tourists now to this little town in the foothills of the Alps whose name means exactly that—"under the mountain." But it has also brought some new expenses.

Pier Carlo Carissimi, friendly, middle-aged mayor of Sotto Il Monte and its 1,760 inhabitants, said: "We even had some additional expenses to improve roads and build a new paved square in front of the church where Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli (the Pope) was baptized. Tourists come, but Sotto Il Monte has not become a tourist center and we have remained simple farmers, as we always have been."

This is true even for the Roncallis who have lived here for many years and who today include three brothers of the Pope.

A roughly painted sign on the centuries-old farmhouse where Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli was born on Nov. 25, 1881, announces simply, "Dove nacque il Papa" — Where the Pope was born.

The second floor room where the Pope was born is a simple room. There is talk of making a national monument of the old farmhouse, but thus far nothing has been done.

The farmhouse is more or less just as it was in the days that the future Pope lived there. Nor have the Pope's brothers changed.

Zaverio, 73, the oldest of the three, answered the knock on his door dressed in rough peasant clothes, one foot in a boot, the other in a wooden clog.

He explained: "It's because with this foot (the one with the clog, to save boot leather) I must push the spade into the ground."

Zaverio did not even wait for the next question.

"Of course, I've remained a farmer and do what I always did —work in the fields. I was just taking a nap before going out to work again."

Two other brothers of the Pope, Giuseppe, 66 and Alfredo, 71, were busily working in the fields. Zaverio bid farewell and went out to join them.

Sotto Il Monte's Church of Santa Maria, where Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli was baptised, dates back to 1430. Its pastor today is Don Pietro Bosio.

Don Pietro said that the pontiff used to spend his summer vacation here every year when he was a bishop, and later, archbishop. "He was the happiest man in the world when he was able to come here and feel again like a simple man among simple people. He used to walk through the streets, talking with old peasants and with housewives, asking about the harvest. You could easily have mistaken him for an old country parson."

To the people of Sotto Il Monte, despite his exalted position, Pope John still is their country parson. They still speak of him, affectionately, as "Gioanin"—local dialect for "Giovannino," or "Little John."

Start Fund For Flags To Lead Ashland Band

ASHLAND—A movement is underway, headed by J. H. Douglass, to build up a School Band Flag Fund. Letters of appeal have been sent to all families in the Ashland school district.

The movement started after the local school band appeared at the Greenfield centennial and the White Hall homecoming celebrations. Spectators remarked the band members looked fine in their uniforms but wondered where the group was from. The fund is hoped to purchase two flags, a new national flag and a school flag with Ashland clearing identifying the group.

The band has presented concerts during the past three years under direction of Mr. Durako for the enjoyment of the public. Persons willing to donate to this worthy cause are asked to make checks payable to: Ashland School Band Fund, or enclose cash and use their return envelope received in mailed appeal, sending to: Walter Lohman, State Bank of Ashland. Mr. Lohman is treasurer for the program. The committee hopes to obtain handmade flags made of nylon. The order, after placed, will be available within 30 days.

Ashland Children To Ask 'Trick Or Treat'

ASHLAND—On Thursday, Oct. 27th, from 4 to 6 p.m., children of the Ashland community will be calling at homes for a "trick or treat" gift for UNICEF, the United Nation's organization for helping the needy, hungry children in distressed countries of the world.

Through UNICEF, about 55 million needy children and mothers in 107 countries will be aided during this coming year. Countries receiving help must match any funds donated at a ratio of 2½ to 1.

When children call, householders are asked to give generously, keeping in mind that 1 cent provides five glasses of milk, 5 cents buys vaccine to protect five children from TB, 10 cents gives enough penicillin to cure two of yaws, 13 cents protects one child from malaria, 20 cents provides antibotics for a year against blinding trachoma and $1 treats a young leprosy victim for three years.

Children doing the collecting will wear identification tags and the collection box will have the official UNICEF band. Anyone missed, is asked to leave his contribution at one of the local churches.

Flag Project

Four days after the announcement of the band flag project, 102 replies were received by J. H. Douglass. This represents 65 percent of the goal. Checks should be in the mail within the next few days.

The flags will be hand made and it will take 30 days for delivery. Douglas, who is in charge of this project, has received many letters with the donations.

Rammelkamp Chapel Will Rise In 1961—Construction will begin on the Rammelkamp Chapel at Illinois College in the early Spring of 1961, according to an announcement Saturday by Dr. Fred Hoskins, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the College. In his announcement, Dr. Hoskins stated that the Trustees would advertise for bids about February 1, 1961 in order to allow construction to begin as soon as weather permitted.

The announcement followed a decision made Saturday morning by the Trustees in their semi-annual meeting on the campus.

Designed as a multi-purpose building to seat an audience of 1,100 people, the Chapel will be build in a clearing on the east side of the campus, facing west toward Crampton Hall. The new structure will not only seat comfortably the expected expansion in enrollment but also allow the public to attend many functions not possible now in the limited facilities of Jones Chapel.

Named in honor of Dr. Charles Henry Rammelkamp, sixth president of Illinois College, 1905-32, the Rammelkamp Chapel is the first construction step in the one and a half million dollar building program not yet a year old on the Jacksonville campus. Construction of the Crispin Science Hall will be the second step in what President L. Vernon Caine has called, "a continuing realistic effort by Illinois College to meet the challenges to higher education in the decades ahead."

Questers Meeting At Chambersburg

The Land o' Lincoln Questers held its first regular meeting of the new season on Sunday, Oct. 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Liehr, near Chambersburg.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Orin V. Duncan, president of Winchester. The secretary in reading the minutes recalled a pleasant family picnic at Hannibal, Mo., and a trip to the Peoria Antique Show.

A feature of the meeting was a showing of antiques acquired since the last formal meeting. Gordon May showed an heirloom frosted green fruit bowl; Carl Ritter a Meissen pheasant, camco vase, and footed pewter snuff box, purchased on his recent European tour.

Mrs. Duncan an art glass holly amber and Wheeling peachblo bowls; and Mrs. Liehr an early pressed glass compote of delicate green. Mrs. Duncan had also three Russian spoons, purchased for her by Mr. Ritter, from the London silver vaults. One has on the bowl a large Russian public building, thus far unidentified.

R. R. Rueb gave the program on "American Coins," cleverly circulating coins to illustrate his points as he talked. In a brief background he explained that in America the Indians had used wampum belts, shells and skins as media of exchange.

In our early colonies, English coins circulated before the revolution, and Spanish "pieces of eight" were common.

With American independence, the Articles of Confederation regulated coinage. New Hampshire had the first American coins in 1776. We imitated the Spanish dollar as the basis for our money. In 1791 a mint was proposed to coin gold and silver coins, with a ratio of gold to silver of 15-1. Silver dollars, half dollars, and gold eagles circulated or were hoarded depending on the demand for use of currency.

In the administration of Andrew Jackson, paper money or "shinplasters" circulated freely, driving hard money into hiding.

There has been a varied and picturesque series of coins such as the odd three cent piece, large clumsy two cents, one cent and half cent pieces, all of copper alloys. Named silver coins were tiny silver five cents, and half dime pieces similar to the Canadian five cent piece.

During the silver agitation in Bryan's time, the Bland-Allison act authorized a flood of silver dollars. These were not popular because of bulk, and returned to the banks. The Sherman act authorized silver notes, and the circulation of dollars practically ceased. Two other interesting silver pieces were the Columbian half dollar, struck to commemorate that exposition, and the odd 20 cent piece which was a dismal failure.

In 1933, with the devaluation of gold, all gold coins were called in, and ceased to circulate, those outstanding being mainly in the hands of collectors and coin fanciers.

In the second World War, pennies were made of steel, and some of these can still be found.

Today coinage is utilitarian, in denominations of 50 cents and under, for convenience in purchasing, and making change. Today because of odd prices and sales taxes, the penny remains in such demand that the government is hard put to meet the need.

After the meeting, the host and hostess served refreshments from a fine old walnut drop leaf table secured during the summer. The table was decorated in the Halloween motif.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith, on Nov. 20, at Naples.

The bride chose a gown of light beige brocade designed with a full pleated skirt and accented with a satin midriff. Her headpiece was a tiara of matching beige from which a short veil was attached. She carried a white Bible and white carnation bouquet.

Martha Ellen Turner, the groom's sister, served as maid of honor. She wore a blue chiffon over taffeta. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Attending the groom was his twin brother, Terrance Lynn of Denver, Colorado. Another brother, Joe, served as usher.

Mrs. Osborne wore for her daughter's wedding, a light lavender silk afternoon dress. The groom's mother was dressed in a light brown flowered silk with black accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—A dramatic upsurge in the world price of gold highlighted the nation's economic problems and accompanied this week's stock market decline, the sharpest in four weeks.

Gold shares soared for two full days as Wall Street watched the price of the yellow metal zoom on the bullion markets of London, Toronto and elsewhere. The gold issues came a cropper on Friday following a statement by the U.S. Treasury that it would maintain the gold price at $35 an ounce. But the gold stocks kept substantial gains on the week.

The rise in gold abroad was backgrounded by the unfavorable U.S. balance in foreign trade and a flight from the dollar, accompanied by predictions in various quarters that the United States must eventually raise the price it pays for gold, thus devaluing the dollar.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange this week rose to 12,932,430 shares from 10,966,610 the week before.

The rise in the gold shares was accompanied by a broad decline in the market wheelhorses which decide the fate of popular averages, in which golds are not represented.

The Dow Jones industrial average this week fell 18.93 to 577.55.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 4.90 to 205.80, its sharpest drop since the week ended Sept. 24 when it fell 5.10.

Third quarter earnings reports of many companies re-emphasized the profits squeeze, a number showing increased sales and lower income. Other news was drab.

A sharp drop in housing starts was reported and prompted economists to reassess the economic future. National output of goods and services was reported at an annual rate of $503 billion in the third quarter, down from $505 billion in the second quarter. As the week ended, a panel of economists was quoted as expecting a further decline in business before recovery sets in.

The most active issue this week on the American Stock Exchange was Lefcourt Realty, off ¼ at 2⅜ on 184,900 shares.

Recession and election talk were credited with causing improved bond prices this week.

Both U.S. government and corporate markets closed higher. The gain for government securities, reaching ⅜ of a point, halted a three week slide that trimmed up to 2½ points from quotations for some of the longest maturity bonds.

The rise for corporates, although slight, was the second in eight weeks.

Bond experts said the trend toward general agreement by economists that the country is in the midst of a mild recession was the major influence of the week.

Volume held at $21,604,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange compared with $21,452,000 last week and $26,191,000 a year ago.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—Butcher hogs declined 1 to 1.25 this week, the sharpest downturn for any week on the Chicago market in more than 14 months. Sows finished the week 50 to 75 cents lower.

Increased receipts and a lower dressed pork trade was blamed for lower prices on live hogs. The supply was the largest for any week since June. In the dressed meat trade, pork loins were down 2.50 to 3.50 a hundred pounds compared with a week ago.

The highest price paid for hogs this week was 18.

In the cattle market, slaughter steers ended the week mostly 25 to 75 cents lower, with instances of 1 off. Heifers finished steady to 25 cents lower and cows 25 to 50 cents higher. Bulls sold strong to 50 cents higher for the week.

Increased supplies of slaughter cattle together with a 50 cent to 1 lower trend on carcass steer beef in the wholesale dressed trade, contributed to the lower live cattle market.

Sheep receipts for the week were more than double those of the previous week and the largest for any week since February. Strong to 1 higher prices for lamb in the wholesale market more than offset the bearish influence of sharply increased receipts.

Prices for live sheep held steady to strong all week.

Mobutu Regime Faces Collapse

sistance" from the Soviet bloc than during his first term of office.

Some pro-Western African officials believed the Western powers erred in their opposition to Lumumba. They suggest that if the United States and Britain would seek an informal understanding with Lumumba, they might yet save the Congo from falling back into the Soviet orbit.

With the Lumumba revival closing in from all sides, Mobutu's college graduate commissioners showed signs of revolt against the ex-journalist "strong man" who appointed them. They openly rejoiced at Mobutu's announced departure and prepared to boost his probable successor as the last-ditch defender of Western positions and ideals in the Congo.

But Mobutu designated Lt. Col. Boboso, commander of the Tysville armored brigade, to replace him as army leader during his absence. Some commissioners said they expect Boboso to bring his 2,000-strong armored unit to Leopoldville and put an end to dissension and mutiny among Mobutu's men.

Whatever the outcome of Mobutu's mission to New York, Washington, Paris and Brussels, it thus appeared unlikely the 30-year-old colonel ever would resume his short-lived control of the nation. The Soviet and Czechoslovak missions he expelled on Sept. 17 were reported waiting in Accra, capital of Ghana, for the signal to return.

for the future of the nuclear test talks; in effect, he thus called for quick establishment of a deadline.

Kennedy said he thought the next president "should make one last effort to secure an agreement on the cessation of tests." If this effort fails, he said, then resumed testing can be carried out underground or in outer space. In either instance, the danger of polluting the atmosphere could be avoided.

Kennedy said he hopes the proposed final negotiating effort would be successful, particularly because of a danger that development of cheaper methods of making atomic weapons during the 1960s would mean the spread of those weapons to other countries with an increasing danger of nuclear disaster.

U.S. diplomats see no chance of major agreements in the three-power negotiations at Geneva until after the new administration takes power in Washington. Then if the Soviets have any new moves to make, perhaps in connection with Premier Khrushchev's pressure for a summit conference, that would be the time to expect them.

for party fund raisers:

"This is a key state in the campaign. Whoever carries Missouri may well carry the U.S."

Missouri went for President Eisenhower by some 30,000 votes in 1952. Four years later it shifted to Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, by fewer than 4,000 votes.

Political observers said discontent among Missouri farmers will help Kennedy this year. However, it may be counterbalanced, they said, by the religious issue.

Rural areas are predominantly Protestant while St. Louis has a high percentage of Catholics. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic.

A St. Louis "ice cream" poll gave Kennedy a better than 2 to 1 edge over Nixon.

Kennedy looked tired when he appeared at the fund raisers' breakfast, his first stop of the day. His voice was somewhat hoarse, but he was forceful as ever in urging his audience to redouble their efforts in the closing weeks of the campaign.

He then motored through warm, sun-drenched streets on the outskirts of St. Louis to the first of several shopping centers on his schedule. A substantial crowd estimated at 7,500 awaited him there. People swarmed around his open convertible shaking his hand and packed tight around the temporary platform where he spoke.

In the audience, however, a half dozen or more "Nixon" placards confronted Kennedy. One man waved a hand-made sign which asked:

"Why did F.D.R. recognize Communist Russia in 1933?"

Saturday crowds, shouting and blowing automobile horns, greeted Kennedy along his entire route in the suburbs of St. Louis.

From there he headed for Joplin, Mo., Wichita, Kan., Grand View, Mo. —site of former President Truman's family farm—Kansas City and Green Bay, Wis.

NIXON ATTACKS KENNEDY'S CALL FOR REVOLT IN CUBA

Reporters travelling with Nixon on his plane said they had never seen him in better humor.

At almost every stop as he toured the outskirts of Philadelphia before coming to Allentown for his speech Saturday night, Nixon repeatedly referred to Cuba. In Chester, for example, he put it this way:

"I say that Americans particularly—and based on some of the rash and impulsive comments made by my opponent last night in that debate—cannot sleep well at night if we have a man like that, with that kind of judgment, in the next four years."

Nixon contended that he already has come up with a program that will guarantee the end of Fidel Castro in Cuba.

"The question is not who is for or against Casto," Nixon said. "On that score, my position is crystal clear while Sen. Kennedy's, as usual on most issues, is wooly and fuzzy."

Nixon said that the economic sanctions which have been taken against Cuba will lead to Castro's overthrow.

Kennedy's views, he said, will violate five treaties that we have with other American states.

"The senator's statement," Nixon said, "has already produced a reaction of shock and dismay from the U.N. delegates of a number of our sister American republics."

Nixon spent the day stumping the area around Philadelphia. On a previous trip he toured the city itself—and drew one of the largest crowds of his campaign. In lovely autumn weather, he drove to and spoke in Chester, West Chester, Norristown, and Levittown — all normally Republican areas — before heading for Allentown and then on to Washington for the night.

He drew good crowds around the route and a couple of times so many were out that he made unscheduled stops for brief speeches.

Michigan State Has Easy Time With Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Michigan State used four quarterbacks and almost four teams Saturday to spoil the dedication of Indiana University's new football stadium, 35-0.

The Spartans ripped off ground gains of 5 to 10 yards almost at will and quarterback Tom Wilson did some unnecessarily brilliant passing for a change of pace.

Five different men scored for the Spartans, ranked No. 13 this week in the Associated Press poll.

Michigan State drove 66 yards from the opening kickoff, halfback Gary Ballman going the last three. The Spartans picked up two more touchdowns in the second quarter on halfback Bob Suci's 11-yard run and a 12 yard pass from Wilson to end Jason Harness.

The Spartans got two more in the third quarter. Fullback Carl Charon plunged 5 yards at the end of a 67-yard drive that took just five plays, all on the ground, and Charon carried on four of them. An 18-yard run by halfback Jim Eaton wound up the scoring.

Small College Results

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Wesleyan took homecoming honors and continued its title bid in the College Conference of Illinois Saturday by coming from behind and downing Carroll College, 20-12.

A tight secondary defense and three superb goal line stands gave the Titans the game over the Waukesha, Wis., school before 5,900 partisans.

ELSAH, Ill. (AP) — The lead changed hands four times in an action packed fourth quarter and Principia College came from behind for a 35-25 football victory Saturday over William Penn.

An 85-yard pass play from Bob Walpole to Dave Gibbs put Principia ahead with only three minutes left and Gibbs scored again on a 26-yard run in the final seconds.

Jack Boender starred for the visitors from Oskaloosa, Iowa, scoring two fourth quarter TDs on running plays of one and four yards after sustained drives in which he led the way. He ran up 239 yards in 30 carries during the game. Quarterback Dick Power had 127 yards in 9 carries for Principia.

CHICAGO (AP) — Rose Polytechnique Institute put across two touchdowns in the final quarter Saturday to pull out of a tie and defeat Elmhurst College 19-6.

Bob Checkley, halfback, was the outstanding man on offense, running two touchdowns and also running across for the extra point.

The game was scoreless at the half and knotted 6-6 at the third quarter.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Illini capped a happy homecoming Saturday with a 13-0 win over St. Procopius.

The Navy Pier squad dominated play throughout, tallying on a 16-yard run by Ralph Hegner in the second quarter and a one yard plunge by fullback Bill Savas in the fourth.

Tailback Larry Tickner sparked the attack as he piled up 191 yards in 32 carries.

DEKALB, Ill. (AP) — Northern Illinois unleashed a powerful ground attack Saturday to shock Central Michigan 36-15 before 12,500 homecoming fans.

Central bounced back midway through the second period of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Association contest to make it 14-7. Later in the same period Central appeared touchdown bound, but a fumble halted the drive on the Northern 23.

From there on, the Huskies were in command.

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Ted Calhoun, a fleet-footed senior halfback, broke loose on a 78-yard off tackle sweep in the second period Saturday to give Eastern Illinois an 8-0 Interstate Conference decision over winless Eastern Michigan.

A homecoming crowd of 5,200 saw the Hurons stopped twice on the Eastern Illinois one-yard line. Eastern Michigan had a 15-7 edge in first downs but could not make the final yard.

The Hurons drove to the visitors one-yard line early in the second period but fumbled on fourth down. In the final period, a punt return to the Eastern Illinois 24 set up a march that carried to the 1 before the vicitors stopped the drive.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Wartburg halfback Wayne Drier dashed Augustana's homecoming hopes Saturday as he scampered to three touchdowns in the Knights' 27-7 win.

Plagued by Drier and fumbles Augustana managed a 7-7 halftime tie but never came even after a fumble on the second play of the second half set up a Wartburg score.

Drier's scoring sprints were for two yards in the second quarter, 12 in the third and one in the fourth. The Vikings' lone tally came on a 12 yard pass from quarterback Ken Collinson to end Bruce Horton late in the second period.

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — A four-yard run by Del Rutz in the third period gave Millikin a 13-7 victory over Lake Forest Saturday.

Millikin scored in the opening period on a 30-yard pass from Rutz to Russ Koch. Lake Forest's only score came in the second quarter on a 24-yard run by Herb McDowell.

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) A 15-yard pass with five seconds to play gave Monmouth a 6-6 tie with Knox Saturday.

The pass went from Pete Margetis, quarterback, to Carl Goff an end. Knox had scored with only two minutes remaining on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Gordy Stagg to Tom Chulibrk, an end.

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — John Turpin's 3-yard touchdown plunge and extra point kick Saturday gave North Central its first triumph over Wheaton in 13 years. The score was 7-6.

A homecoming crowd saw Wheaton tally in the second period on a 3-yard run by Kent Hutcheson. Hutcheson's extra attempt on a run failed, and Turpin sealed the victory for North Central in the third uarter.

Southern Beats Normal, 30-6

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) —Southern Illinois University relied on a short passing game Saturday for a 30-6 homecoming victory over Illinois State Normal University.

It was the sixth straight triumph for the Salukis and their fourth in Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference play.

Quarterback Ron Winter went to the air and cracked the game wide open after visiting Redbirds from Normal, Ill., slowed down Southern's vaunted offensive attack during early stages of the game.

Winter completed three straight passes late in the second period to pave the way for Amos Bullock's 8-yard touchdown run. Fullback Tom Bruna gave Southern a halftime lead of 8-0 with a 2-point run.

A blocked punt set up a Southern TD late in the third period. Clarence Walker, regular SIU halfback who had been sidelined with a leg injury for the last three weeks, dashed 15 yards around left end for the score. Winter passed for two more touchdowns in the fourth period.

POLITICS, GOLD MARKET INFLUENCED WEEK'S GRAIN PRICES

By EARL AYKROID
AP Business News Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Soaring gold prices and possible political implications of a Democratic victory in November played important roles in the grain futures markets this week.

Soybeans and most grain contracts scored their best advances in weeks as nervous shorts ought to cover commitment. Soybeans led the higher trend, followed closely by wheat. Even the feed grains rallied following a lengthy period of declines.

At the close of the markets Friday, wheat was 1¼ to 2⅞ cents a bushel higher compared with Friday a week ago. Corn was up 1¼ to 1⅝ cents, oats were 1⅛ cents higher to 1 cent lower, rye was 1 cent higher to ¾ lower, and soybeans advanced 2⅝ to 3⅝ cents a bushel.

Active buying of all grains on Wednesday was prompted by a market letter that stated there was a belief among some grainmen that Democratic Senator John Kennedy, an advocate of higher farm support prices, would win the presidential election.

The letter, distributed among the grain trade by a major brokerage house, advised traders against establishing short positions in 1961 commodity futures until Kennedy states more clearly what he hopes to achieve from a commodity price standpoint if he is elected.

Increased demand for all grains resulted. At the final bell, soybeans were up as much as 2½ cents a bushel, and some what contracts advanced a cent. Other grains scored good one-day gains.

Wednesday's firmness carried over to Thursday, when it was augmented by an unprecedented foreign demand for gold bullion that sent prices soaring to $41 an ounce on the London Exchange.

This development set off talk of inflation and demand for futures increases further. But midway through the session, the U.S. Treasury issued a statement saying the price of gold in this country would remain at $35 an ounce. This tended to relieve inflationary fears and prices for grains dropped back somewhat from their best levels.

By Friday the gold fever had subsided and the price of bullion in London had dropped to around its former level.

Colder weather at midweek also was a factor in corn and oats transactions. Demand for feed grains picked up, partly on expectations of increased feeding on farms.

Some good export demand during the week also contributed to higher prices. Portugal bought 1,400,000 bushels of red wheat and Poland took around a million bushels of the same type, all for November shipment. India took two million bushels of west coast hard and white wheat and Japan 750,000 bushels of hard and white. Lesser amounts were bought by other countries.

Soybean exports included 450,000 bushels to Denmark and around 4,000 tons were sold to the continent. The United Kingdom took 400,000 bushels of corn and Israel bought 540,000 bushels.

Church Group Denies Planning Kennedy Attack

CHICAGO (AP)—The executive secretary of the National Association of Evangelicals (NAE) said Saturday it is absolutely false to imply that his group's observance of Reformation Sunday will be a personal attack on Sen. John F. Kennedy or an anti-Kennedy rally.

"Our concern is not with the individual Catholic but with the hierarchial system of the Roman Catholic Church and its stated official opposition to the separation of church and state," Dr. George L. Ford said in a statement.

The statement was in reply to a charge by Bruce L. Felknor, executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee that the NAE is attempting to turn Reformation Sunday "into a gigantic anti Kennedy rally."

The NAE, with headquarters in Wheaton, Ill., claims 10 million Evangelical Protestant members. None of the larger Protestant denominations belongs to it but are affiliated with the National Council of Churches.

Reformation Sunday, Oct. 30, marks the 16th century Protestant break fro mthe Roman Catholic Church.

Seek Compromise In U.N. On Disarm

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Some neutral and Western countries were reported Saturday trying to draw up a compromise resolution on disarmament and head off a Soviet walkout from the current U.N. debate on that subject.

Diplomatic sources said India, the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia, Mexico, Venezuela and Sweden were seeking to draft the resolution and might hand it in toward the end of next week.

They said one idea under discussion was to propose that the General Assembly's Political Committee, where the debate is taking place, set up a working group to formulate a set of principles for disarmament and report back next month.

That would postpone a showdown vote on rival Soviet and Western resolutions now pending before the 99-nation committee. It would also delay such a decision until after the U.S. presidential election Nov. 8, in which Soviet Premier Khrushchev's American partner in any future summit disarmament talks will be chosen.

A Western resolution sponsored by Britain, Italy and the United States would have the General Assembly recommend that disarmament start "with those measures which are capable of early implementation under effective international control."

A resolution introduced by the Soviet Union, on the other hand, would have the assembly instruct negotiators to go right to work on a treaty for general and complete disarmament.

In addition, there is a British resolution to have technical experts study disarmament inspection problems and another Soviet resolution to expand the 10-nation East-West Disarmament Committee by adding five neutrals.

That committee began negotiations in Geneva last March 15, but the negotiations came to a halt June 27 when the Communist side walked out, charging the Western side was stalling.

SALES TAX COLLECTIONS HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois sales tax collections in September were $55.84 million or 84.02 million more than September a year ago.

The State Revenue Department said an $888,951 decrease in cigarette tax collections reflected the decrease from 4 cents to 3 cents in the rate. The rate fell because the extra penny tax has paid off the Korean soldiers bonus bond issue.

Triopia Spoils Illinois Deaf Homecoming

FAN BREEZES

BY STAN SPOTTS

Journal Courier Sports Editor

In less than 20 hours Coach Bob Winstead and his Rockets were back on Route 67 Sunday morning on their way to St. Louis to watch the Cardinals play Dallas at Busch Stadium. Monsignor Driscoll is footing the bill and his generosity makes for a happy crew especially since it's such an expensive operation to take in a professional grid contest. The lowest priced seat begins at four smackers. Routt left at 6 p.m. Saturday night for the game at Southwestern and departed from Jacksonville at 9:45 a.m. Sunday morning.

—O—

Winstead related a story of Rog Ezard's to Nero Thurman and I Thursday night on the way home following the 34-6 victory over Bluffs and the humor of it should be mentioned. Rog claims it is a true story and it happened at Wenoa where he coaches. An official was serving as interpreter for the first time and when the quarter ended the ball was resting on the five yard line. Instead of taking the ball to the opposite five yard marker, the new official merely turned the ball around. This way the team with the ball would have had 95 yards to go for a touchdown whereas it should have been only five. The error was quickly called to his attention.

—O—

I don't believe Marv Schultz, mentor of the Feitshans gridders, is long for this coaching game. He is very disappointed with football in general and would like to leave it all behind after next season. "I would like to see my juniors through their senior year because they had a 7-1 record as sophomores. But, you know we're (Springfield) never going to have any outstanding teams over here unless the freshman football program is restored. This is my 12th year as grid coach here and I told my wife tonight I wondered if it was worth it. All this worrying in a losing cause. I told the kids before game time to come out tonight and just have a good time which is all we've done so far this season," claimed the disheartened Flyer coach.

—O—

Marv succeeded Earl Wax, who has been principal for 12 years at Feitshans, as coach and he's beaten Jacksonville only three times —1949, 1952 and 1953. The 1952 campaign was a perfect one for the Flyers. Jacksonville couldn't buy a victory from Feitshans when Wax, who is a relative, was coaching but Earl was blessed with a lot of talent during his coaching reign. My, how times change! Schultz would like to stay on at Feitshans in a teaching capacity and forget the coaching which in all probability he'll do after next season.

—O—

It's always ole home week for Barney Lewis and I when Jacksonville plays Feitshans. After we greeted Earl Wax, Bob Keyes and Bob Carpenter, we ran across one of our favorites, Bob Rowe, who was a teammate of Barney's at Normal. Rowe used to be one top-notch official before he hung up the striped shirt. Barney claimed Rowe was also one whale of a ball-player at Normal where Lewis was a center. There were quite a few experiences recalled between the former teammates and it ended with Rowe calling Lewis, "Grandpa Barney. How about that?"

—O—

It isn't known yet whether Wes Coulter will go out for basketball but the transfer athlete from East Peoria would rather stay off the court and concentrate on the weights he throws in track. Wes may forget practice swimming and just swim for Al Dinquel's YMCA team in meets only. He excels in this sport. Coulter has his sights set on certain goals that could produce national recognition if his rigid training program pans out as planned. Wes has his own training room at home where he stages daily workouts. He would like nothing better than to win the state shot put track title and he just may do that and go on to bigger things. The shot put record at JHS of 48 feet set in 1938 may fall by the wayside this spring on Wes' first toss as he has heaved the shot 53'11" this fall.

He wants to better his 145' discus distance and he probably will.

Unless he changes his mind, JHS fans won't see Coulter this winter on the hardcourt. Instead, they'll have to wait until next spring to catch the junior in action on the cinders. Coulter did a good job both ways for JHS in the 42-0 win over Feitshans Friday night and he wasn't about to stop despite all the Flyers trying to bring him down on his touchdown run of 64 yards. Wes said he was sore and stiff Saturday and that Feitshans hit pretty hard for a bunch of small lads.

—O—

Tom McGinnis, Rocket guard, who was injured in the Bluffs game, had X-rays taken Friday and the reports showed no breaks. But he does have a sprained knee. Routt has an open date next week which should give all injuries a chance to mend. The Rockets should be at full strength for their final engagement with Don Kemp's Triopia Trojans at the JHS field Nov. 5.

—O—

To all coaches and principals receiving flyers on the annual Journal Courier Sports Stag at the K of C Hall Nov. 7 at 7:00 p.m. please return your reservation cards immediately so chef Floyd Sorrills will know how much southern fried chicken to prepare. Reservations are coming in fast and we're assured of another successful event but there are still a few out and we want to know whether or not you plan on attending. Thank you.

—O—

Gary Nelson, one of the finest if not the finest athlete to come out of Arenzville, is attending the University of Illinois where he is a junior. He spent his first two years at Taft College in California. According to Don Kemp, Gary's former coach, Nelson was offered a football scholarship but he turned it down because he felt he couldn't whip into shape in time. Don feels that the Illini won't be interested in Gary as a senior and that he missed the boat by not accepting the help. Nelson is pursuing an engineering degree.

—O—

Alan Anderson, a rugged fullback to get down, proved his ability Saturday in Triopia's 40-6 victory over ISD and Anderson is a definite Little All-Star candidate on his running and passing ability. Charlie Davis should also reap some all-state laurels with his stellar defensive performances in Triopia's five straight victories. Davis, a burly tackle, had a lineman's dream come true Saturday when he intercepted a pass and returned it 28 yards for a touchdown. The loss was the first homecoming setback in seven years for a Tiger aggregation. The last team to turn the trick was Notre Dame of Quincy by a 19-7 score in 1953.

When the Yankees beat the Pirates, 16-3, in the second World Series game in Pittsburgh it brought back memories of Lefty Gomez and the Yankees 18-4 victory over the 1936 Giants. "Had my stuff that day, too," said Gomez.

Trojans Breeze To 5th Straight Win In 40-6 Triumph

The Triopia Trojans spoiled Illinois School for the Deaf's bid for a seventh straight Homecoming victory, as they overpowered the westenders, 40 to 6. The I.S.D. Tigers, coached by Jim Bonds, had not lost a Homecoming game since 1953 but were outclassed in every department Saturday afternoon before an estimated 500 friends and alumni.

The Trojans used a three touchdown outburst by powerful Alan Anderson plus single TDs by Hansmeier, Roegge, and Davis, the latter being a tackle, to accumulate their winning total. Coach Don Kemp's Triopia eleven racked up their fifth straight victory and I.S.D. became only the second team to score on them this year.

First Quarter

The Tigers received to open the contest, tried a couple of line plunges before they decided to punt from a very short formation and into a tremendously stiff wind. After the pigskin had completed its strange and unfortunate bounces, as far as ISD was concerned, they had gained only 10 yards from the line of scrimmage and Triopia took over on the Tiger 35. Two plays later found the Trojans on the 8, but Ed Carlson broke through the forward wall of the Trojans and crushed Hansmeier, causing him to fumble. The Tigers were again stymied by the tough Triopia line and punted out of bounds on the 36 from where runs by Roegge, Anderson, and a pass interference penalty set the ball on the 12 yard stripe. On the first play Anderson swept his own right end for the TD, but the attempted pass for the point after was no good.

ISD again failed to move the ball, and punted to their own 38. It took Kemp's Krushers only 4 more plays to score, with Ron Kershaw going over from the 11. Charles Roegge, Anderson's running mate at halfback, pounded the yards for the point after.

On the next series of downs by the Tigers, they tried the airways, but this was to no avail, as tackle Charlie Davis intercepted a Poncar pass and rambled 28 yards for the third TD of the seemingly long first period.

ISD Scores

The two teams traded punts as both were plagued by penalties and missed blocking assignments, until with about 3 minutes to go ISD took over on the Trojan 35 yard stripe, their deepest penetration so far and tried three running plays which gained absolutely nothing but they elected to go for the first on fourth and ten and Bobby Poncar fired a strike to end, Ed Joyner who got behind the Triopia defense and went all the way for the Deaf's only score of the day.

Triopia added another score in the third quarter as they took the kickoff opening the second half, and marched 41 yards with Anderson getting his second marker of the day. The quarter ended with Triopia on the Tigers' 35 and they immediately cashed this chance for another 6 points by using only two plays, a 30-yard gallop by Anderson, and a 5 yard sweep by Hansmeier to pay dirt. Roegge again added the point after.

The Tigers found the going just as rough as before and got in their three plays before punting to the Trojans who lugged it to the 38 of ISD. A penalty sandwiched between carried by Anderson put the ball on the nine, and Mr. Inside or Outside, Al Anderson pounded over for the final TD of the afternoon. Kershaw picked up the PAT on an end sweep.

The Trojans threatened again in the closing minutes as the second squad got to the 6 yard line on the strength of a pass interception and run back by Tom Weeks, but on the first play Carlson recovered a stray pitchout for the Tigers and the game ended with them punting from their own end zone.

Statistics: yards rushing, Triopia — 252, ISD — 59; yards passing, completed 3 of 9 attempts for 71 (Triopia), ISD completed 3 of 7 for 38 yards but had 4 intercepted. Penalties, Triopia — 55, ISD—55.

15 Yard Infraction Set Up Winning Boot

A 31 yard field goal with 18 seconds left in the ball game gave Culver-Stockton a 15-14 victory in what proved to be a tough, rugged heartbreaker for Illinois College Saturday afternoon on College Field. Key play was a 15 yard defensive holding penalty against the Blueboys which placed the ball on the I.C. 21 yard line instead of the Culver 47 where quarterback Baird had just been tackled. It was second and about a foot on the I.C. 21 when freshman Bob Boulware with the wind behind him split the uprights for the three pointer.

In a tough defensive ball game where both teams together couldn't gain 300 yards, there was scoring in every quarter—four touchdowns, two extra points and a field goal. I.C. capitalized on a break when Culver attempted to punt on fourth down from their own 31. The pass from center went over the kicker's head, and it was the Blueboys' ball on the Culver ten. Three plays moved the ball to the three. On fourth down Bobby Volk passed to Ed Puck in the end zone for the TD. Mock's kick for the point was true, and the home team led 7-0 with four and a half minutes left in the first quarter.

A break in the second quarter went to Kenneth Robb's Wildcats. Following a 50 yard run by Culver fullback Milt Roberts deep into I.C. territory, the Brooksmen held Culver on downs and took over on their own 15. A fumble on the first play from scrimmage gave the ball back to the Wildcats, and three plays later, Roberts plunged the last foot for six points. Try for the point was wide, and I.C. still led 7-6 with six minutes and 20 seconds remaining in the half.

In the third quarter, the Wildcats got another break which was to lead to pay dirt. Held on downs, they punted from their 24, and then recovered the ball when receiver Dick Orendorff fumbled on his own 49. A penalty and sharp tackling cost them yardage, but two pass plays, one from Baird to Schwan for 40 yards, and the other from Baird to Chick for 20 yards and a TD, picked up six points. The kick was no good, and Culver led 12-7 with three and a half minutes left in the third quarter.

Following the kickoff, I.C. was held and forced to punt. Boyl's kick bounced into the end zone, and the Wildcats played it from their 20. On the second play, Culver fumbled, and Orendorff recovered on the Culver 23. It took I.C. seven plays the hard way, before Orendorff plunged the last yard for the big one putting the Blueboys out front 13-12. Mock's kick was again good, and it was Illinois College 14, Culver-Stockton 12, with 13 minutes remaining in the ball game.

The ball changed hands four more times in the last quarter, before the visitors started their final drive through the airways. Baird completed four of nine passes in a desperation drive that looked as if it were doomed to failure. Then a penalty moved the ball to the I.C. 21 within reach of the goal posts, and Boulware's foot decided the ball game.

Lone Blueboy injury to come out of the contest was linebacker Tom Plattner who broke a bone in his right hand sometime during the game. Tom, who also called defensive signals, had the hand placed in a cast following the game and according to Coach Bill Merris will be out for the rest of the season.

The game was characterized by hard running, blocking and gang tackling. Even dirty in spots, the game saw Culver penalized four times for personal fouls, and one Wildcat thrown out by the officials.

The surprisng finish stunned the crowd of about 600, and also gave the Blue and White its second loss against three wins.

After four games, Illinois College had ranked 8th among the nation's small colleges in rushing offense and 18th in total offense. Harry Sweet, junior halfback, was ranked 10th in individual rushing offense.

Next foe for the Blueboys will be the Redmen of Carthage who defeated Culver-Stockton a few weeks ago. Illinois College will travel to Carthage Friday night, Oct. 28, for a night game.

Unbeaten Middies Blank Penn, 27-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Halfback Joe Bellino, Navy's high-stepping All-America candidate, scored two touchdowns Saturday as the unbeaten-untied Middies coasted to a 27-0 victory over Pennsylvania before 26,123.

The running of Bellino and the passing of quarterback Hal Spooner featured the sixth straight victory of the season for the nation's fourth-ranked football team.

Navy took a 7-0 lead late in the first period on a 10-play, 61-yard march capped by Bellino's one-yard smash into the end zone. Greg Mather, who earlier misfired with the first of two field goals he tried during the afternoon, kicked the first of three conversions.

The Middies scored in the second period on a two-yard plunge by Walt Strobach at the end of a 41-yard drive. They scored in the third quarter on a 26-yard sweep by Bellino, and in the final period on a one-yard burst by Joe Matalavage.

Western Suffers 34-20 Setback

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP)—Scoring three touchdowns in the first period, Northern Michigan went on to whip Western Illinois 34-20 Saturday on a rain-soaked football field.

The Wildcats upset the favored Illinois team with a crushing ground attack led by substitute halfback Lee Johnson.

Johnson accounted for 104 of Northern's 246 rushing yardage. Western Illinois was held to 148 yards rushing.

The Wildcats didn't try as many passes as the visitors but quarterback Frank Novak completed three out of four including one to end Mike Mileski that was good for 63 yards and a touchdown in the first period.

In the second period, Novak hit end Wayne Sickler with a 43-yard touchdown pass.

Washington Edges Oregon State In Thriller, 30-29

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Washington, the Rose Bowl favorite, had to scramble from behind to edge Oregon State 30-29 in a battle between two West Coast football leaders Saturday.

Quarterback Bob Hivner, replacing injured All-America Bob Schloredt, scored the winning touchdown with a one-yard plunge that climaxed a 64-yard drive with just 2 minutes, 7 seconds remaining.

The running of fleet halfbacks George Fleming and Charlie Mitchell saved the day for Washington. Fleming scored two touchdowns and Mitchell one.

Both Mitchell and Fleming contributed sizable gains to Washington's final march. The big gains were a 22-yard dash by Fleming and 13-yard end sweep later putting the ball on the State three. It took Washington three plays from there to score against the stubborn Staters.

Illinois Visits Purdue's Jinx Stadium Saturday

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illinois visits a site of rare success, Purdue's Ross Ade Stadium, Saturday to add a 42nd chapter to its oldest football rivalry. Only once in the last 40 years, in 1949, have the Illini defeated the Boilermakers on their home grounds. Illinois has won 19 games, Purdue 17, and five have ended in ties in the series which began in 1890.

The 1949 victory for Coach Ray Eliot's team broke a 29-year Illinois drought at Purdue. Fullback Burt Schmidt and halfback John Karras led the attack for the Illini with 121 and 111 yards respectively. The score was tied 0-0 at halftime, but Illinois pushed across a touchdown in the third quarter and two more in the fourth. Eliot's team completely dominated the game, gaining 391 yards to Purdue's 169.

It has been seven years since Illinois beat Purdue at Champaign. In that 1953 game, the Illini needed a win to stay alive in the conference title race. Sophomore sensations J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates provided the victory. They carried the ball 45 times and gained 231 yards, 157 for Caroline and 74 for Bates. The hard-running sophomores carried Illinois to a 21-0 win and an eventual share in the Big Ten Championship.

The 1956 and 1959 games produced ties. Last year's 7-7 deadlock was one of the most dramatic ever played between the two teams. With only 18 seconds remaining, Jerry Wood tried a field goal from the 35-yard-line. The kick sailed straight but fell inches below the crossbar. The attempt was so close that after the final gun there still was some dispute as to whether the kick had been good.

Purdue and Illinois met for the first time in 1890, Illinois' first year of intercollegiate football. The Boilermakers walloped Illinois 62-0 at Lafayette.

Missouri Routs Iowa State, 34-8

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Tigers spiced a powerful and methodical ground attack with an 88-yard punt return by Donnie Smith and made the Iowa State Cyclones their sixth victim of the season, 34-8, Saturday.

The Tigers, ranked No. 5 nationally, whipped the Cyclones with surprising ease in upping their Big Eight Conference record to 3-0.

Sticking to the ground the first half, the Tigers scored on a sustained drive of 57 yards the first time they got the ball and counted on an 80-yard march and Smith's long punt return to make it 21-0 by halftime.

The Tigers added two more in the third quarter. Mel West, who gained 104 yards on 20 rushes, got one that climaxed a 72-yard drive and substitute quarterback Jim Johnson sneaked one yard for the other.

Hawkeyes Turn Purdue Back In A 21-14 Go

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa's passing attack sputtered but an 84-yard scoring run with a Purdue fumble by reserve center Dayton Perry paved the way to a 21-14 victory over the Boilermakers Saturday.

The homecoming triumph was the fifth straight for the Hawkeyes, ranked first in this week's Associated Press national football poll.

Purdue, rated 10th, almost overtook Iowa after trailing by three touchdowns midway in the third period.

Quarterback Bernie Allen fired pass after pass as the Boilermakers scored on touchdown drives of 76 and 91 yards in the second half.

Purdue was threatening again as the time ran out to preserve the victory for Iowa and strengthen its bid for a Big Ten championship.

The scoring sprint by Perry, a third-team sophomore, gave Iowa a 14-0 halftime lead.

With 50 seconds left in the second period, Allen dropped back to pass on the Iowa 16-yard line and was crushed by two Hawkeyes. The ball popped into the air and Perry grabbed it and ran untouched to the Purdue goal.

Iowa quarterback Wilburn Hollis, whose last-minute pass gave the Hawks a 28-21 triumph over Wisconsin a week ago, couldn't find the mark Saturday and finally quit calling passing plays.

But his 21-yard dash to the Purdue 1-yard line set up the first Iowa touchdown which he scored on a sneak early in the second quarter. He also capped a 53-yard Iowa drive in the third period with a six-yard touchdown run.

N'Western Nudges Norte Dame, 7-6

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern blew several scoring opportunities Saturday but managed to hang on for a 7-6 victory over the Notre Dame ball team which made its moves too late.

A record crowd of 55,682 and a national television audience saw Notre Dame's bid late in the third quarter fall short as the Irish went stumbling to their fourth straight defeat.

Notre Dame failed to make a first down until there were five minutes left in the third quarter, but once the Irish started to roll, they went all the way for a touchdown. That came on a 25-yard pass from George Haffner to Jim Sherlock.

Joe Perkowski's kick for a game-tying extra point was wide.

The Irish, who failed to crash into Northwestern territory in the first half, put on a bid late in the fourth quarter when they marched from their own 25 to the Northwestern 40—only to have the advance falter before an aroused Northwestern defense.

Hampered by fumbles, Northwestern put across its only touchdown late in the first quarter, when Albert Kimbrough took a pitch-out and swept around his own left end from three yards out without a Notre Dame man touching him.

Mike Stock booted what proved to be the game-winning point.

The scoring summary:

Notre Dame	0	0	6	0	—6
Northwestern	7	0	0	0	—7

Illinois' Scoring Was All In 1st Quarter Against Penn State

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — John Easterbrook, Illinois' Tom Thumb quarterback, Saturday combined with giant end Ed O'Bradovich for a first quarter touchdown that keyed a 10 to 8 victory over Penn State.

It was Illinois' first triumph over the Nittany Lions in a three game football series and ended a two game Illini losing slump this season.

All of the Illini's scoring was in the first quarter as they took advantage of a strong wind that faced Penn State's punter, Charles Raisig.

Penn State tallied in the final three minutes of the game on a 75 yard thrust in 10 plays. Galen Halls' 13 and nine yard passes to John Bozik and Dick Hoak's 27 yard toss to Al Gursky provided the punch. Hoak kept it with a one yard scoring pitch to Gursky. Hoak ran for the extra two points.

But two much damage had been done by Illinois in the first quarter for Penn State to overcome.

Against the wind, Raisig got off a 27 yard punt in the opening minutes and Illinois took over on the Lions' 45. In 10 plays the Illini scored, Marshall Starks slashing across from the three after a pitchout by Easterbrook. In the surge, Easterbrook, a 5-foot-8, 158-pound senior quarterback, three times hit O'Bradovich, a 6-foot-3, 235-pound junior end, for a total of 32 yards.

Gerald Wood converted. Later Wood booted a 24-yard field goal that proved to be the deciding margin. His chance came when Reisig's punt hung up in the wind and was good for only 11 yards. The Illini got the ball on the Penn State 30.

The scoring summary:

Penn State	0	0	0	8— 8
Illinois	10	0	0	0—10

Ill—FG Wood 24
PS—Gursky 1 pass from Hoak (Hoak run)

Harmonizing Garners 1st In Man O'War Stakes

NEW YORK (AP) — Harmonizing a 37 to 1 long shot who was claimed from the Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons' stable last summer for $6,500, threw horse-of-the-year claims into a tizzy Saturday by whipping both Bald Eagle and Sword Dancer in the $110,200 Man O'War Stakes at Belmont Park.

Harmonizing swept off the head of the stretch a quarter of a mile out, cut through on the rail and barged to the wire a 2½-length winner over Bald Eagle.

Sword Dancer, 1959 horse-of-the-year, who ran next to last much of the way in the field of eight, barely got up for third place by a neck over French-bred Wolfram. Sword Dancer finished four lengths behind Bald Eagle.

The mile and a half event of the Widener grass court had been billed as a duel for 1960 title honors between Cain Hoy Stable's Bald Eagle and the Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer.

Harmonizing, owned by Sadie L. King and claimed by her husband, E. W. King, a former Floridan, hauled down the first prize of $70,530 while paying his backers $77.20.

Christian Bros. Beats Pittsfield

QUINCY — Christian Brothers capitalized on a potent running attack and shook fullback Jim Rakers loose for three touchdowns to annex a 39-13 victory over Coach Glenn Smith's Saukees Saturday night.

The very fast Rakers, who was the game's top ground-gainer, was very effective against the Pittsfield ends. QB Ken Bunte and tackle Charles Buckman also scored for the winners with the latter's being a recovered fumble in the Saukee end zone.

Pittsfield hit paydirt in the second chapter on a 12 yard run by halfback Jerry Harmison after the Saukees had marched 43 yards. Nick Haskins made the PAT around right end.

Glenn Smith's eleven collected its only other tally of the C.B.H.S. Homecoming contest in the fourth period on a nine yard pass from Keenan Barber to Ron Motley. The conversion try for extra point was no good. Pittsfield is now 4-2 for the season.

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Bowl of Flowers, coming from deep last at the halfway mark, won the Gardenia Stakes Saturday by a length over Angel Speed and virtually sewed up championship honors for 2-year-old fillies.

Griffith Halts Toweel In 8th

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith of the Virgin Islands unleashed a two-fisted body barrage to stop Willie Toweel of South Africa at the end of the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Saturday night. Griffith weighed 147½, Toweel 144.

Griffieth, who had dropped Toweel in the opening seconds of the fourth round and again at the start of the seventh, finally stowed him away with a pair of knockdowns in the eighth.

A series of body punches drove Toweel to the ropes and he folded after a left hook to the body. Willie squatted at the edge of the ring holding the middle rope, for seven seconds during the mandatory eight count. When he got up, Griffith tore after him and pushed Toweel to the canvas.

Referee Al Berl signaled no knockdown, but another barrage dropped Toweel to all fours as the bell sounded ending the eighth.

Dr. Samuel Swetnick, New York State Athletic Commission physician, examined the South African and signaled the referee to halt the nationally televised bout.

Ron Watkins, Michigan State sophomore halfback, won state titles in the 100 and 220-yard dashes at Flint, Mich., Central High School.

Browns Stand Good Chance To Pick Up Ground On New York

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Browns juggernaut begins consolidating its title aspirations in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles in Cleveland.

The Browns, already 41-24 victors over Philadelphia (3-1) in the season's opener, find they have a good opportunity to pick up ground over the idle New York Giants. Both have won three games without a loss, but New York has played one more game, a 24-24 tie with Washington. Ties count as no games played in the standings, so Cleveland could jump a half game in front with a victory.

The Detroit Lions, winless in three games, are host to Baltimore, coholder of first place in the Western Conference with the Chicago Bears.

The Bears visit Los Angeles, whose Rams have lost all four games. Dallas, also 0-4, is at St. Louis.

In other games, Pittsburgh is at Washington and San Francisco visits the Green Bay Packers in Milwaukee.

In the American League, only three games are scheduled. Boston is at Denver, Oakland at Buffalo and Houston visits New York in a battle for first place in the eastern division.

The Browns' 1-2 running punch of fullback Jimmy Brown and halfback Bobby Mitchell had a field day the last time they played the Eagles. Brown rolled up 153 yards on 24 rushes and scored once. Mitchell scored three touchdowns and gained 156 yards on only 14 carries.

At the same time Philadelphia's supposedly high-powered and equally speedy offense could do nothing, mainly because quarterback Norm Van Brocklin had one of his poorest days. Unknown to anyone at the time he stepped into a hole early in the game and twisted his ankle. The ankle swelled to enormous proportions and he had little balance.

This week Van Brocklin is healthy. He has thrown eight touchdown passes so far and ranks fourth in the NFL in passing.

Southwestern Scores Twice In 3rd Frame To Decision Routt

PIASA—Two double reverses led to a pair of third quarter touchdowns and pulled Harold Knapp's Piasa Birds from behind and led Southwestern to a 27-12 victory over Routt here Saturday night in the first meeting between the two schools.

Several bad breaks went against the Rockets and it was enough to hand them their second defeat against five victories.

Coach Bob Winstead felt his charges wore down in the third canto as the brunt of two games in as many days took its toll. Routt got an early lead on a pitchout to Fred Curtis in the first quarter and he dashed 52 yards to paydirt. The score remained at 6-0 when Jack Lawless was stopped on the point after run.

It looked as though Routt was going to cling to its narrow margin at halftime as Piasa was forced to punt with one minute left in the second quarter. But a roughing the kicker penalty gave Southwestern new life as the Birds punched close enough for Mickey Breitwiser to score from the three with :12 seconds left. Ayres ran the PAT and Southwestern was on top at the half, 7-6.

Winstead changed some blocking assignments around in the dressing room and it paid off as Jack Lawless sliced between guard and tackle on the first play of the third quarter and scooted 67 yards to score. Key blocks by Gary Fellhauer and Gene Aragona opened the scoring run. A PAT pass from Bucky Sullivan to Bob Brennan was wide but Routt enjoyed its last lead of the contest, 12-7.

Then a 31 yard TD by Al Watsin on a double reverse and a PAT run by Meecham put Southwestern on top to stay, 14-12. Two series of plays later Thaxton went 37 yards on another double reverse and Breitwiser plunged for the point after to clinch victory number three in six outings for the Birds.

A QB keeper play by Jerry Halliday in the fourth quarter produced a 30 yard touchdown run to end all scoring and the Birds had their final margin of triumph, 27-12.

Southwestern used a side-saddle T formation and the razzle-dazzle made it hard for Routt's defenders to locate the ball.

Major Undefeated Elevens Triumph

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Led by Iowa's top-ranked Hawkeyes — who almost didn't make it —all the major undefeated college football teams in the country rolled to victory Saturday as the second half of the season got under way.

Iowa, No. 1 team in the current Associated Press poll, downed 10th-ranked Purdue 21-14, with the Boilermakers threatening as the clock ran out.

Syracuse, Navy, Missouri, Minnesota and Baylor, rated Nos. 3 through 7 in The AP rankings, permitted their opponents a total of just eight points.

Syracuse, the defending national champion which has been unimpressive in piling up four victories, clobbered West Virginia, 45-0. Navy shut out Penn 27-0; Missouri crushed Iowa State 34-8; Minnesota blanked Michigan, 10-0, and Baylor whitewashed Texas A&M, 14-0.

Washington, No. 8, scored a touchdown in the final period to defeat Oregon State, 30-29.

Ohio State, No. 9, ground out a 34-7 triumph over Wisconsin. Tennessee, also unbeaten, made a bid to push into the top 10 with a 35-0 triumph over Chattanooga.

In the national television game of the day, Northwestern edged Notre Dame 7-6.

Baylor Stymies Texas A&M, 14-0

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Ronnie Stanely's third quarter 44-yard pass to Tommy Minter revived undefeated Baylor's lagging offense and the Bruins went on to defeat Texas A&M 14-0 Saturday.

Following this key play, Ronnie Goodwin scored Baylor's first touchdown on a three-yard sprint around end. Larry Corley kicked the extra point. Baylor made it 14 later in the third quarter on a pass interception and a 36-yard touchdown run by fullback Robert Starr.

Corley's place kick for the second extra point of the game was his ninth straight.

The victory preserved seventh-ranked Baylor's hold on first place in the Southwest Conference. After playing two tie games, the Aggies met their first defeat in league play.

Baylor's fearsome offense bogged down twice in the first half and the Aggies punched once to Baylor's 15 and again to the 27 in scoring threats that failed. It was Baylor all the way in the last two periods.

Bob Cain of Willoughby, Ohio, is 260 pounds and the heaviest member of the Cleveland Browns. The former Kentucky tackle is 31 years old.

Minnesota Upsets Wolverines, 10-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Sixth-ranked Minnesota smashed down fumbling Michigan Saturday 10-0, second-string fullback Jim Rogers accounting for every point in the amazing Gophers' fifth straight victory.

Rogers, a 185 - pound senior, scored on a one-yard plunge in the second period, kicked the extra point, then booted a 22-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter.

This is the Minnesota team the experts picked to finish near the bottom of the Big Ten heap, but five straight triumphs have given the Gophers their longest winning streak since 1941.

Minnesota recovered five Michigan fumbles and intercepted two passes, and two of the Wolverine mistakes led directly to Minnesota scores.

Farm Editor Tendick Tells Society About King Corn Century Ago

"Corn was king," Cecil Tendick, Farm Editor of the Jacksonville Journal and Courier, said in discussing western Illinois agriculture of 100 years ago for the Morgan County Historical Society Friday evening at the Dunlap Hotel.

"It furnished bread, meat, hominy, fat for the skillet and lamp, shucks for the mattress and horse collar, cobs for fuel, for pipes, and for the stopper of the jug. It also furnished the contents of the jug."

The speaker traced the rise in prices of all commodities during the Civil War years, when Illinois became one of the nation's bread baskets, was first in pork production, and ranked high in beef production, with more blooded cattle in this area than in all the rest of the states.

Farm land, which up to 1860 had been cheap, doubled in price during the war years; taxes doubled, too, and included a short-lived income tax; speculation made some rich and broke others.

Mr. Tendick graphically described the farm of 1860, — the home which cost from $300 to $800, the care of the stock, and the implements used.

Few Barns

"There were few barns," he said, and it cost about $180 to fence 40 acres, and so the stock roamed until about two weeks or a month before selling time, when they were corn fed and fattened for market."

In describing the farm implements used, Mr. Tendick said that they were made by local blacksmiths who were skilled craftsmen. "J. C. Pfeil of Arenzville made the first successful gang plow, but he had no patent on it, and in a few years, plows like it were in use all over the country."

Jonathan Baldwin Turner brought the osage orange here to solve the fence problem with a hedge, and "he didn't raise his prices during the war as many others did, but he did run out of seed and had to become a blockade runner to replenish his supply."

Mr. Tendick told of the efforts of local farmers to raise cotton and tobacco when the war cut off trade with the south, citing the area around Naples as the only successful tobacco-raising country.

Merchant Support

Merchants extended credit to farmers, and in some cases, they even advanced cash, probably hoping that it would be taken out in trade. Benjamin Grierson, who went broke in the grocery business in Meredosia, attributed his failure to the extension of credit to his customers.

Ernest Hoagland, president of the society, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker. The invocation preceding dinner was given by Rev. Bernard C. Jeffries, pastor of Northminster Presbyterian church.

A memorial tribute to Fidelia Nichols Abbott, for many years secretary of the local society, was read by Dr. C. P. McClelland, a former president of the local society and also of the Illinois State Historical Society.

Dr. McClelland, who is chairman of the local committee for the observance of United Nations Day on Oct. 24, distributed pamphlets which outline the accomplishments of the U.N. during the past 15 years. Dr. McClelland said, in part:

"I think that everybody recognizes the importance of the U.N. in this critical period of the world's history as they never did before. They see the necessity for the union of free nations if we are to preserve our civilization as we know it."

The Morgan County Historical Society will be 100 years old in 1961, and as a preliminary to the centennial celebration, the president appointed a membership committee: Donald Robinson, Helen Sweeney, and George Vasconcellos.

Injured Man Confesses To School Burglary

Richard Mitchell, 23 residing in the rear of 1033 Beesley avenue, made an oral confession in the presence of several members of the police department Friday afternoon that he burglarized the Jonathan Turner Junior High school early that morning.

Mitchell's right ankle was deeply gashed when he "kicked out" a glass panel in the door of the woodworking room at the school. At first he claimed that he jumped off a truck "on some glass." Later he changed his story, according to police, and admitted breaking into the school where he obtained nothing but some bandages from a medicine cabinet.

A warrant was sworn out in the court of Justice Charles Warzar, charging Mitchell with burglary. Bond was set at $5,000 and he was transferred to the county jail.

The prisoner stoutly denied that he had any connection with burglary of Washington elementary school, also early Friday morning, where a cement safe was battered but failed to open.

Mitchell was weakened from loss of blood from the wound on his ankle. Large fragments of glass were in his shoe when he was arrested while seeking medical treatment. A bloodstained pair of rubber gloves also was found in his possession.

PLAN MARCH OF DIMES

Three Jacksonville women are pictured above while attending a recent meeting in Chicago of 600 volunteer workers for the March of Dimes 1961 campaign from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. The meeting was held at Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago. Left to right are Mrs. Carl Shanbacher, Jr., Jacksonville; Mrs. Otto Beerup, Jacksonville; Dr. Jonas Salk, who created the Salk vaccine; Mrs. Ray McKinley, Morgan County March of Dimes chairman and Robert Smith of Carmi, Illinois, Chairman for March of Dimes. Mrs. Schanbacher and Mrs. Beerup are also chairmen of the local Junior Woman's Club Mother's March, held annually during the campaign.

Urging county residents to "Please say 'Yes' " to the New March of Dimes campaign for $45,000,000, Mrs. McKinley points out that twice within the last five years National Foundation research has scored major medical victories.

"In 1955, the announcement that the Salk vaccine was safe, potent and effective electrified the world and offered promise that the scourge of paralytic polio could be eradicated.

"Just two months ago came the announcement from the Surgeon General of the United States that the Sabin Oral Vaccine—also financed soley through March of Dimes contributions—would soon be licensed for use in this country as a working partner to Salk vaccine".

"The American people, voluntarily contributing their dimes and dollars to a cause they believe in, have provided the medical profession with two great weapons against crippling and disability she states.

"Such a record of success gives even greater hope for early medical victories over the other great crippler—birth defects and arthritis—which have been targets of the New March of Dimes since July, 1958".

The volunteer leader explained that in little more than two years, the New March of Dimes organization has moved swiftly in the new fields. Grants totalling $2,200,000 has gone to scientists and doctors seeking both the causes of birth defects and arthritis and the methods of alleviating the suffering of those now afflicted. Four arthritis and two birth defect clinical study centers are already in operation and others will open in the near future.

In addition to scientific research, said Mrs. McKinley funds are urgently needed for the Patient Care and Health Scholarship program of the New March of Dimes.

Thousands Each Year

"Despite the availability of the Salk vaccine, thousands of new cases of polio occur each year. The responsibility of aiding many of these victims as well as those who contracted the disease in past years, rests with the New March of Dimes. Last year alone, $13,900,000 was spent on direct financial assistance to polio victims and a comparable sum is forecast for 1961".

Equally important, according to the campaign director, is the New March of Dimes Health Scholarship Program, now in its third year of operation. Under this program, five hundred students each year from all 50 states are furnished scholarships valued at $2,000 enabling them to pursue careers in medicine, nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy and medical social work.

"This Health Scholarship Program, aimed at alleviating drastic shortages of personnel in the health professions is just another example of New March of Dimes pioneering for better health for all Americans," Mrs. McKinley explains.

Select Rev. Harmon CROP Chairman For Scott County

By Dorothy Sauer
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-3439)

WINCHESTER — Rev. Crawford Harmon, pastor of the First Christian church in Winchester, was elected Scott County chairman for the Christian Rural Overseas Program, known as CROP, at a planning meeting held recently in this city.

Others named to serve on the CROP program for 1960 include Dale Hewitt, Scott County farm adviser, as vice chairman and Willitt Pierce, vocational agriculture instructor at the local high school, and Robert Reid as co-campaign managers.

Emphasis will again be placed on the collecting of corn, as well as cash, as a means of pointing up the meaning of CROP, which had its origin in the Friendship Food Trains and has continued as a person-to-person sharing of food staples produced on America's farms.

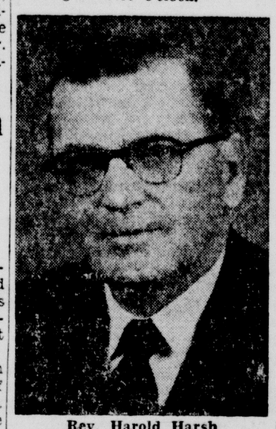
The goal for Scott County is 1,000 bushels of corn and $800 or the equivalent of 1,800 bushels of corn.

In this county the appeal will be made from Nov. 20 through Nov. 23 with November 20th being designated as CROP Sunday in the local churches.

The CROP appeal is church-sponsored but is a community action program and invites everyone to share with underprivileged people in other countries such as refugees, widows and orphans, and people in institutions. In emergencies, like floods and earthquakes and sudden hostilities, CROP gifts can help even before government aid is mobilized.

Revival Speaker

Rev. Harold Harsh of the Tabernacle Southern Baptist Church in Decatur will be the guest speaker each evening in a two week revival meeting to be held at the Grace Baptist church in Winchester commencing this Monday evening and continuing through Nov. 4. The series of meetings will commence each evening at 7:30 o'clock.



Rev. Harold Harsh

Rev. Dean Spencer, pastor of the local church, and the members cordially invite the public to attend all the services. Each evening there will be special music along with the inspiring messages. Nursery accomodations will also be provided for the public.

Rec. Harsh will bring several messages on prophecy and the second coming of Christ throughout the meetings. The speaker is well known throughout several states as a pastor, evangelist and radio pastor. Rev. Harsh was also president at Bethel Baptist Bible school in Decatur eight years.

Auxiliary To Meet

The ladies of the Winchester American Legion Auxiliary will hold their regular monthly meeting at 8:00 this Wednesday evening in the Legion Hall with Mrs. Denton Coonrod, president, presiding over the business.

A report on her week at Girl's State this past June will be given by Miss Jane Pate, a senior student at the local high school.

Members to serve on the refreshment committee for the evening include Mrs. Ed Wild, chairman, Mrs. Paul Steckel, Mrs. William Herring, Mrs. Raymond Slagle, and Mrs. Nora Wallace.

Fears Historical Loss

The Scott County Farm Bureau is cooperating with the College of Agriculture Alumni Association in locating and preserving historical documents now extant. Future historians of Illinois farming may be seriously handicapped because of a dearth of source materials unless something is done soon to locate and preserve such historical documents.

The Association seeks old letters, personal papers of pioneer farmers and residents, old account books and ledgers, sale bills, newspapers and magazines, programs and reports of farm organizations—in other words, any item of historical interest.

Virgil Vortman, Farm Bureau president, states that these may be loaned outright to the Library of the College of Agriculture for safekeeping or duplicate copies can be made and the originals returned to the owners.

Any readers of this column who may know of the existence of such historical items are to contact the Farm Bureau office in Winchester, Dale Hewitt, Scott County farm adviser, or George H. Iftner, secretary of the historical committee of the College of Agriculture Alumni Association, Fairgrounds, Springfield, Ill. The wishes of the owners of such materials will be respected in every way.

Elizabeth Circle

Mrs. Duane Clark was hostess to the members of the Elizabeth Circle of the Christian Women's Fellowship group of the First Christian Church in Winchester this past week with Mrs. John Renfro serving as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Dick Shive, chairman, presided over the business meeting and announced a rummage sale to be held in November. All members are urged to start collecting articles for this sale.

Rev. Crawford Harmon, pastor of the church, was a guest at the meeting and presented the program on "Our Churches Serve Through Institutions." This was a most informative program on a few of the institutions supported by the Disciples of Christ church which are representative of them all. A brief factual account of the beginnings of these institutions was given for the purpose for which each was established and the kind of service offered by each. Among the numerous institutes supported by the brotherhood are the Mexican Christian Institute in San Antonio, Texas; The Hazel Green Academy located in the mountainous country at Hazel Green, Ky; the Yakima Indian Christian Mission at Yakima, Washington; The Japanese Christian Institute in Los Angeles, Calif., now known as the All Peoples Church and Community Center. Another important Home Mission Institution named was the Tougaloo Southern Christian College near Edwards, Miss. This is an accredited four year Liberal Arts College which draws no racial lines. The faculty is inter-racial but the student body at present is Negro.

Devotions by Rev. Harmon concluded the program. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Wheeler Returns From Trip Abroad

Mrs. Edward Wheeler of 1544 South Main Street has returned from Pan-Am trip abroad. She visited relatives and friends in England, Scotland and Wales during her 11,000 mile trip, and had a reunion with her sister in Ashford, Kent and with her brother, Donald MacGregor, in Colwyn Bay, Wales.

Whilst touring the Scottish Highlands with her Aberdonian hosts she saw Queen Elizabeth and the Royal family leaving the Balmoral Crathie Chapel after they had attended the 11 a.m. morning service. An added colorful highlight of this majestic spectacle was the piping of the Royal Camerons with drums and fifes escorting the Royal procession into the Balmoral Castle.

Mrs. Wheeler spent much time visiting the various historic cathedrals throughout England, and the colleges and Universities of Aberdeen, Cambridge and Wales. She was impressed with the maintenance and upkeep of the age-old rural district churches throughout Great Britain. A tour of the famed Houses of Parliament was also a red-letter day.

Much building and re-building is going on throughout Great Britain, comfortable homes with all modern conveniences for the working people, and there is a noticeable boom in economic conditions throughout London. Flowers were blooming everywhere, even in the business and industrial sections, and it would be hard to find a house or cottage without something blooming in the beautifully kept gardens.

One of Mrs. Wheeler's prized souvenirs is an authentic piece of Atlantic cable given to her as a talisman token of friendship.

Three Votes For Harris Rowe

Morgan county voters who would like to continue to have a representative in the state legislature at Springfield should plan to cast three votes for Harris Rowe on November 8th. This can be accomplished simply by making one cross before Rowe's name on the ballot and by not voting for any other candidate for state representative.

Rowe has made a vigorous campaign for office, not only in this county, but throughout the entire legislative district which now includes Quincy and Adams county. It is here in his own community, however, where he must be given the greatest support.

Harris Rowe, in our judgment, is exceptionally well qualified to serve as a legislator. He is a trained attorney with a good background of business experience. He knows the problems of the local communities, having served for a number of years as an alderman of the City of Jacksonville.

During his tenure on the City Council Rowe has shown that he is not afraid to take definite positions. He has consistently fought to hold the line against tax increases.

In addition to his experience in the law, in business and in municipal office, Rowe is a veteran who has been active in civic affairs. He deserves the favorable consideration of every voter.

Sometimes He Means It

We in the West seem always to be trying to X-ray the mind of Nikita Khrushchev to discover what he "really" means when he delivers himself of some major pronouncement. But we must not overlook the prospect that there are times when he means exactly what he says.

His latest blast on disarmament could be such an occasion. His fists of anger often are dismissed as mere devices in some broader strategy. But a calculating man may calculate that at a given point the only thing to do is show the anger he really feels.

Khrushchev no doubt is personally outraged at having been rebuffed again and again in the U.N. He is unaccustomed to opposition, and never has had to experience so much of it at first hand.

He is also extremely sensitive as to the position of the Soviet Union in the world's eyes. He doesn't at all like seeing his country cast continuously in the role of bad brother. It is extremely annoying to him to find Russia constantly boxed in by anti-Communist majorities.

Furthermore, there is reason to believe he feels genuine frustration that the West will not accept his perennial plan for disarmament now with vague talk of inspection afterward.

One would think after 15 years of discussion he would understand that the West never will buy this package. Yet he apparently does not choose to grasp the fact. He prefers to wonder why we can't see his point—that real inspection amounts to espionage.

We run a risk, too, in imagining that his newest warnings of war and Soviet rocket power are just so much empty saber-rattling. There may be times when this is so, but it is dangerous to assume the threats are never solid.

Khrushchev is a shrewd, cunning man. He has seen enough of the realities to grasp the ruinous peril of nuclear war. He is no fanatical Hitler, openly committed to the idea of war to prove his country's supremacy.

But Khrushchev is also a man in something of a hurry. He shows frightening signs of wanting to achieve too many of Russia's goals within his own remaining life span. Some of the table-pounding and fist-waving he exhibited at the U.N. may well reflect deep-seated frustration at being blocked.

Some analysts believe he also is emboldened to his new course by what he regards as Russia's military superiority over the United States. He has perhaps had enough space and missile success to feel this way even though intelligence reports from the U.S. might urge caution upon him.

Whatever the mixture of elements in his mind today, the end product is an irresponsibility of attitude and behavior which no sane citizen of the world can shrug off lightly. In his present bent there is much danger.

Editors Take Election With Several Grains of Salt

By PETER EDSON
Written For NEA

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Large measures of skepticism are found in comments of U. S. daily newspaper editors on this year's presidential election, all across the country. Criticisms are applied to both Democratic and Republican parties, platforms, candidates almost impartially; even by supporters.

This grass-roots opinion should be a potent political warning for 1964, even though it may be too late to apply in 1960.

"Neither candidate has emerged as a person," comments Editor-Publisher Wayne W. Bleakley Jr. of the Franklin, Pa., News-Herald. "Thinking so far is pretty negative."

In the same vein, Editor Donald L. Breed of the Freeport, Ill., Journal-Standard writes:

"What we would like to see is a positive approach to the presidential candidacy of either Nixon or Kennedy, rather than a negative one.

"That is, we should like to read . . . just why either Kennedy or Nixon offers what we need in the White House, without tearing down his opponent . . . the more the average citizen absorbs the negative approach, the more he is apt to feel like voting against both of them, and therefore feel inclined not to vote at all."

Warren Thornton of the Marysville-Yuba City, Calif., Appeal-Democrat put it this way:

"I believe that Nixon and Kennedy are . . . flagrant opportunists. The political philosophy of each of them is determined by whatever he thinks is popular with the majority of the voters . . . their differences are so minuscule as to give the voter no real choice."

In A Slightly More Charitable Way, Editor Dan J. Rooker of the Pulaski, Va., Southwest Times puts it like this:

"I personally do not believe either of these candidates is as socialistic as their party platforms would indicate. But I am convinced that they are convinced this is what is needed to buy votes for the presidency."

For downright cynicism over the American political situation today two editors who ask that their confidential views be not attributed to them or their papers take the prize:

"Although this newspaper is supporting Vice President Nixon," writes an Eastern editor, "in my personal opinion it is a lost cause. I am convinced that Senator Kennedy will win in November . . . the Republican party does not have a military hero to lead it into battle this year. It is not as well organized as the Democrats. Therefore, a weak party will be fighting a strong one, plus the labor unions, the solid South and the world's most powerful organization — the Roman Catholic Church.

"As Always," comments the second anonymous cynic, from the south, "the fools will outvote the reasonable people. But the Democrats are always better at gulling the fools, so, more or less accidentally the Kennedy-Johnson team will win."

Editors On Both Sides of the political fence say they have to stick to their respective parties, even though they don't like them.

"We do not agree with everything in the Republican platform, but we have no place else to go," says Publisher Roy C. Swank of the La Grange, Ga., Daily News.

"The Democratic party has made it clear that the South is no longer welcome," confesses Natchez, Miss., Times Editor R. E. Wilcox somewhat sadly. He goes on to say that, "Sulking on the outside may express disgust, but we must go along and do what we can to counteract the influence of misguided zealots."

In an editorial headed, "This year's presidential race leaves conservatives out in the cold," J. W. Gore of the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., News laments that "The election boils down not to a choice between a liberal and a conservative, but between an ultraliberal and a plain liberal who has just a few overtones of conservatism."

From The Other Side of Dixie comes the Alice, Texas, Echo with the further comment that.

"We can't stand the idea of more socialism and we believe that the next few years will see a trend away from central government."

And from up in Oregon, Edd E. Roundtree of the Ashland Daily Tidings writes:

"We also feel that there is a definite conservative trend getting underway in the nation. Many people here in the northwest would have preferred to be able to vote for Senator Barry Goldwater.

"We believe that by the time of the next presidential race, he will be a very powerful leader within his party."

BEARS EAT SIGNS

SKYLAND, Va. (AP) — A Shenandoah National Park visitor suggested to rangers that the park's bears should be educated so they could read a sign saying: "Please don't eat the signs." The Bears have been eating the park service signs, even when they're soaked in creosote. Barbed wire around the edges helps but rangers fear people will tear their clothes or stick a finger on the barbs.

If You'll Keep Busy You Can't Remain Lonely

Don't complain that you are lonely unless you have:

- Done at least one kindness during the past week for someone who is worse off than you are.
- Telephoned at least three persons during the past week to find out how THEY are getting along—not to tell them YOUR troubles.
- Invited at least three persons to your home during the past week—if the invitations were only such casual gestures as inviting a neighbor in for coffee or asking a friend to share a meal.
- Made plans to do at least one thing with someone else—if it was just a shopping trip, or going to a movie, or taking someone for a drive.
- Become better acquainted with your public library during a weekly visit to browse or check out books.
- Checked your daily paper to see what is going on in town that appeals to you. The things to do that you'll find are endless—art exhibits, musical events, offerings of the local Little Theater, showings of new homes, commercial exhibits, lectures, political meetings, church suppers and bazaars.
- Tackled at least one of the difficult jobs you need to do but have been putting off for a long time.
- Offered to keep a young child so that a busy mother could get away for a few hours—and prepared for the visit by baking cookies or stirring up a freezer of home-made ice cream.
- Put you mind to work learning something on a subject about which you've thought, "I wish I knew more about that."

In Hollywood

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

PORTOFINO, Italy (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida, the loveliest thing Italy ever exported to Canada, is back home making a picture and all is forgiven.

When Gina announced that she intended to become a Canadian citizen, she was called everything short of traitor. It hurt Gina but did not change her mind. Now she is being given a welcome home like the one Christopher Columbus should have gotten.

"I think," says the luscious Gina, "that the best way to become popular in Italy is to turn Canadian. Even the Italian press has one big love affair with me now. They couldn't be nicer."

It was not always so. A few months ago, Gina's startling news crowded a current government crisis off the front pages. Crises Italy can always have but there's only one Gina.

"You can't believe the things they printed about me. They crucified Gina. They even reviewed my latest picture two months before it was finished and said it stunk."

Gina admits she was a little apprehensive about returning to her homeland to make "Come September" with Rock Hudson.

"But Gina came anyway because I wanted to make this picture with Rock. Such a beautiful man, huh? It's a comedy that can only be made in Italy."

"Come September" is the story of an American millionaire who owns a villa on the Italian Riviera and each September comes over to carry on a month-long romance with an Italian girl.

Walter Slezak is caretaker of the villa and deplores the 11-month idleness of such a beautiful spot overlooking the beautiful Portofino Harbor. So in the master's absence, Slezak runs a hotel. The comedy comes when Hudson, the millionaire, decides to bring Gina to the villa a month earlier than usual.

"I think Rock and I make, how you say, great chemicals together," says Gina. As we talked, we shared a bottle of wine and spaghetti and admired the view. Gina was looking at the harbor. I looked at Gina.

"I love Italy. I will always be Italian. Look how Gina always has the spaghetti and the wine. But a wife must think of her husband and family."

Gina's decision to move to Canada came after Italian officials stamped the passport of her son, Milko Skofic Jr., 2½, as stateless.

That's because her physician husband is a Yugoslav refugee and—until Canada beckoned—a man without a country.

"We tried to get Italian citizenship but the bureaucrats there said we would have to wait seven years. Someone wrote that I could have gotten it okayed if I had put the money in the right place but Gina is too proud to do that."

Gina says some good came out of her Canadian exodus.

"The Italian people were so mad at the government that now they changed the law. It only takes two years residence now to apply for citizenship in Italy."

FREELOADERS

LAURELTON, N.J. (AP) — No one along Rancocan Drive is surprised these days when Mike and Sophie arrive for a free meal.

But a stranger might take a second look when the two—a pair of wild ducks—come quacking along at mealtime.

The ducks live across the road, in Beaverdam Creek, and according to Mrs. Gertrude Tevis, have been dropping around for a free handout for about three years.

"They just waddle up to the steps, quack a couple of times and invite themselves in," she says.

The ducks are seldom seen flying anymore and apparently have forgotten the meaning of migration. Everyone along the road knows them and they seldom get turned away when they come to call.

CANINE RAFFLES

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Amalia Rojas has a smart dog — and her neighborhood grocer will swear to that.

The dog would enter the store, pick up a can of dog food and carry it outside where children would open it for him.

The grocer changed the location of his dog food display. Old Fido wasn't confused at all. He pranced to the new location and helped himself.

Police have been asked for a solution.

matter of FACT

What does the "perfect hostess" do when her guest of honor pulls a social blunder? Queen Victoria had a novel answer. At a state dinner, an Indian rajah drank from his finger bowl. Victoria acted fast. She casually took a sip from her own finger bowl and other guests followed her lead.

Those New Social Security Rules May Benefit You

BY MARIE DAERR

The new Social Security amendments, recently passed by Congress and signed by the President, won't bring about any general increase in benefits.

But they will help many people. Here is a brief summary of what the new legislation does. If you think you will be affected by it, get in touch with your Social Security office. Otherwise, you may be losing out on money to which you are entitled.

The new amendments:

CANCEL THE AGE 50 REQUIREMENT on disability benefits. If you are a disabled worker under age 50, and if you never asked to have your Social Security record frozen, ask your Social Security office if you can receive benefits. Disability payment checks for workers under age 50 will be payable for the month of November, 1960. They will be mailed out in December.

CUT THE LOSS ON BENEFITS for workers under 72. Starting in 1961, a beneficiary who earns more than $1,200 a year will have $1 of his benefits withheld for every $2 that he earns from $1,200 up to $1,500. For every $1 that his earnings go above $1,500, $1 of benefits will be withheld. Also, many people who have not applied for benefits because they are earning amounts over $2,080 a year now may find it advantageous to apply.

RAISE BENEFITS FOR SOME CHILDREN. The monthly benefit of each child of a worker who has died will be three-fourths of the amount the worker would have received if he had lived and drawn retirement benefits. However, a maximum family-amount still holds.

ADMITS SURVIVORS NOT PREVIOUSLY ELIGIBLE to the beneficiary lists. If you are the survivor of a person who died before 1951, and were told there was insufficient coverage, you are advised to get in touch with your Social Security office. Also, aged dependent widowers of women workers who died before September, 1950, now can get benefits if the woman worker had worked at least 18 months under Social Security.

Survivors of any worker who died between March 31, 1938, and June 1, 1940, and who had worked under Social Security for at least 18 months also may get benefits now.

CUT THE AMOUNT OF WORK REQUIRED for benefits. For instance, if you reach 65 (for a man) or 62 (for a woman) in 1960, you now need three, not 4½ years, of work. However, you can't get benefits if you have less than 18 months' work under Social Security.

PUT WORK WHICH A PARENT DOES for a son or daughter in the course of a trade or business under Social Security coverage. However, work done in the household of a son or daughter will not be covered. This is effective next January. First wage report is due on or before next April 30.

Still other changes affect employes of a nonprofit organization, state or local government workers, ministers, U.S. citizens working within the United States for foreign governments, and a few other special groups.

The new amendments are described more fully in a new Social Security booklet. I suggest you ask your local Social Security office if you may have a copy.

FINDING THE WAY

Learn to Know Blind Spots

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Written For NEA

Where's your blind spot? We all have one or more—physical, mental or moral. A friend pointed out that if you put a dot on a page, holding it about 8 inches from one eye closing the other, you can shift the page until the dot disappears.

Even when you attempt to discover your blind spot, your eye may try to fool you. It will want to follow the dot and help you to prove that there is no blind spot. Watch how we do that in our personal relationships.

Henry Smith Leiper once told of an American on an ocean liner who took his valuables to the purser for safekeeping. This request, reasonable enough, he cluttered with an apologetic comment:

"I don't like the looks of the man in my stateroom," said the traveler, "I want you to put my valuables in your safe."

To which the purser replied, "All right, sir, He brought his down half an hour ago."

Our problem is that we are liable to proclaim our freedom from prejudice while at the same time supporting attitudes and situations which create injustices.

Follow the dot of juvenile delinquency, civic corruption, or any other besetting problem and watch how your moral eye is liable to fool you into thinking you aren't involved.

We are likely to be the righteous person who knows all of the rules and yet can proclaim, with a kind of innocence, that we do not know our neighbor.

Willa Cather once wrote: "One of the saddest defects of that ponderous machinery which we call society is the impenetrable wall which is built up between personalities; one of the saddest of our weaknesses is our incapacity to recognize and to know people who are made for us. Every day we pass men who want us and whom we bitterly need, unknowing, unthinking, as friends pass each other at a masked ball.

We can do something about blind spots and these are the times which demand the moral courage to see with a clear-headed, clean-sighted kind of honesty.

We're involved in this complex world and there are many astonishing problems woven into the landscape our eyes must scan. We won't solve them all but we'll see them, and recognize our relationship to them.

It's a disturbing moment on the way to meaningful living for any one who can say "Whereas once I was blind, now I see."

THOUGHTS

For God has consigned all men to disobedience, that he may have mercy upon all.—Romans 11:32.

Cranberries Are Bustin' Out All Over This Year

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise
Food & Markets Editor

Cranberry bogs are exploding with berries right now. There are so many of them that growers are worried. Over 1¼ million barrels. In the face of this all-time high production (29 per cent above average), it is rumored many growers secretly prayed hurricane Donna would pass their way and level things back to normal. But she didn't and therefore the bins at your supermarket will soon be spilling red all over.

Around November 1st, your grocer's shelves will add another canned gravy to the popular beef and chicken gravy items. The new member of the threesome will be mushroom gravy, made of sliced whole mushrooms in a rich gravy base. Meatless, it goes well with all cuts of beef, veal, poultry and lamb. Good as a cooking ingredient, also. In 10½-ounce cans (1¼ cups), priced at 19 to 20 cents a can.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has just released a new bulletin on butter grades. The U. S. grade shield on the butter cartons helps you get the quality you want for the money you pay.

Butter of grade AA possesses: 1 Fine, highly pleasing aroma, with a delicate, sweet flavor. 2. Smooth creamy texture with good spreadability. 3 Salt completely dissolved, thoroughly distributed and blended in just the right amount to enhance its savory qualities.

Butter of grade A is almost as good as grade AA. It too, is made from fresh cream and possesses a pleasing flavor, and measures high on other quality factors as well. Although it rates second to the top grade, grade A will please discriminating consumers.

Grade B is readily acceptable. Butter of this grade is generally manufactured from selected sour cream and is readily acceptable to many consumers though it lacks the fine fresh flavor of the two top grades.

Monday's Dinner: Tomato juice, hot roast beef sandwich with canned mushroom gravy, whipped potatoes, green beans, cole slaw, grapes, cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

AMERICAN AUTUMN—There are pies and jack-o'-lanterns by the dozen in this wagonload of pumpkins in Fultz, Ill. Mrs. George Shultheis will feed most of the load to the hogs since the southern Illinois crop is so big this year that the pumpkins have little commercial value. Rural housewives also use them for pumpkin butter, pies, sauces, stewed and fried pumpkin and even dried pumpkin for winter use. Some of the pumpkins on this load weigh 50 pounds and it isn't uncommon to see 125 pounders in the bottomlands along the Mississippi River.

Calhoun Home Bureau Annual Meeting Held

HARDIN—The seventh annual meeting of the Calhoun County Home Bureau opened at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Farm Bureau Building in Hardin, with vocal selections by the Hardinaires, a singing group from Unit 40 high school. The group is trained by Dan Thomas, unit music director, and accompanist is Mrs. James Lorsbach.

The highlight of the afternoon program was a talk by Mrs. Horace Smith, president of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation, about her attendance at the international convention of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, last summer in Scotland. Mrs. Smith showed colored slides of scenes in Scotland, England, Ireland, France and the Netherlands.

Another special guest was Mrs. Orville Plocker, president of the 7th Home Bureau District, who installed the board of directors following the annual election. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Walter Schudel, county Home Bureau president. Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Plocker and Mrs. Schudel wore orchid corsages which were made for them by Fred Rapp of Kampsville, who grows orchids as a hobby.

Business included reports of the secretary, treasurer, membership chairman, 4-H chairman, ways and means committee, budget committee, and the president. Miss Mary Ellen Ducey of Hardin presented an account of her experiences at the 4-H Junior Leadership Conference to which she was a delegate last summer.

Roscoe Randell, Calhoun county Farm Adviser, spoke briefly to the women, and Mrs. Peter W. Simon, home adviser, gave her annual summary report. Mrs. Chester Knight, president of the Calhoun county Extension Council, presented the 1960-61 program of work.

Directors elected to the board in Saturday's meeting were Mrs. Srnest Cress of Belleview, Mrs. Robert Siemer and Mrs. Fred Tepen of Meppen, Mrs. William Lorsbach of Gilead and Mrs. Paul B. Hanks of Hardin. Mrs. Schudel and Mrs. Harold Nestrick, whose terms expire this year, were not candidates for re-election. Board members re-elected were Mrs. Fred Halemeyer, Mrs. Paul Ringhausen and Mrs. Merle Inman. Others on the board are Mrs. Carl Dixon, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Jr., Mrs. Leroy Hagen, Mrs. Kenneth Surgeon, Mrs. Leslie Wineland, Mrs. Oren Maguire and Mrs. Gordon Hagen.

Following the business meeting, tea was served in the social room.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

SIMERL SEES $1 PRICE FOR CORN

The 1960 Illinois corn crop may sell for about $1.00 a bushel. This price would be about 4 cents less than the average received for the 1959 crop.

The direct cause of the lower average will be the reduction in the price-support level to 1.06 a bushel from 1.12 for the 1959 crop.

The 1960 corn crop will be around 4.20 billion bushels, down from 4.36 billion last year. This amount might not greatly exceed the total needed for domestic consumption and export in this marketing year, which began October 1.

But the carry-over of old corn is at a new record high, and it is of such age and condition that substantial sales must be made to prevent serious spoilage.

We expect to see substantial sales of CCC corn after the pressure of harvest-time sales by farmers is past.

In market situations like the present one for corn, prices usually decline at harvest for enough below the support level to cause a substantial number of farmers to put their crops under the price-support loan. The price difference needed to cause this action is usually 10 to 15 cents a bushel.

The average Illinois farm price for the 1959 crop rose from 96 cents a bushel in October to $1.11 in May. (These prices are not adjusted for changes in grade.)

One fact that tended to limit the seasonal price increase for the 1959 crop was the prospect that the support level would be 6 cents lower for the 1960 crop. It now appears that the price-support level for the 1961 crop will not be lower, but probably higher, than for the 1960 crop.

Another factor depressing the price of the 1959 corn crop was declining price for cattle and hogs. Although cattle prices may decline further in 1961, prices for hogs have recovered substantially from their lows, and they will be well above year-before levels during most, ifnot all, of the 12 months in which the 1960 corn crop will be marketed.

The very favorable hog-corn price ratio will promote rapid use of corn in spite of the reduction in hog numbers. But beef-cattle numbers are at a record high, and feeding will probably reach new records this winter. Laying flocks have been reduced lightly from last year, but broiler production seems likely to continue to increase. All of these factors point to a heavy disappearance of corn in the coming months.

White Hall City Council Plans Tree Project

WHITE HALL — The regular meeting of the City Council was held on Tuesday night at the City Hall, with the minutes of the last meeting read by Mrs. Nova Lyons and approved. The group voted to insure the Stickley Park for 80% of value, with a local agency, the possibility of a billing machine for the city being tabled for further consideration.

Robert Cunningham and Dan Ballard, local Jaycees were present and asked for assistance in the tree planting project in which they are engaged, the sum of $500.00 having been previously set aside was granted toward completion of its project. A free tree will be planted in the yard of every home in the city, further plans to be announced.

A fire alarm plan was placed before the council by representatives of the General Telephone Company, where under the system, a person discovering a fire would dial the "fire number." Simultaneously with this dialing, the number of each fireman's home would be automatically dialed. If any of the phones might be in use at the time, a warning tone would be imposed on the conversation. The cost of the project would be slightly over $600.00 per year. Purchase of new tires for the Police car was discussed and referred to Police Committee.

IAA To Promote Meats As 'Top' Christmas Gifts

A relatively inexpensive meat product—delicious at any meal and at snack time too—will have its formal introduction at the fourth annual Chicago Meat Promotion campaign Oct. 26, Dwight Davis, IAA associate secretary of marketing, announces.

The "new" meat product—new to most consumers, at least—will be featured at a special breakfast at Chicago's Sheraton Towers hotel. More details about the product will be revealed at the breakfast. The breakfast — an IAA Agricultural Marketing Development and Promotion event—will attract farmers from every county as well as representatives from all phases of the meat industry, Davis continued.

Representing Morgan county will be Eugene Nienhiser of Chapin, a member of the Farm Bureau marketing committee.

At the breakfast, industry leaders will be guests of the farmers to learn what farmers are doing in product promotion.

For the rest of the day the farm men and women will be guests of industry leaders to see how food is handled from the time it leaves the farm until it is served.

"Features of the Chicago meat promotion will include an emphasis on the importance of the annual 'Meat for Christmas' campaign," Davis explained. "It is time for merchants to begin planning 'Meat for Christmas' displays and special events."

The Christmas holiday season is an excellent time to boost the sale of meat products and the special campaign has proven popular with both merchants and consumers, he added.

Dangerous Age—

U.N. 15 Years Old Today—Will It Collapse As League Of Nations In Its 15th Year?

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Diplomatic News Writer

The United Nations, once acclaimed as man's greatest experiment in peacemaking, will be 15 years old Monday. It has fallen far short of its goal of producing a peaceful world. Yet for millions of people it still offers the best hope of bringing law and order out of the anarchy of international relations.

The United Nations was born of compromise between the Soviet Union and the Western powers in 1945; it has grown despite strife and disorder. Now in the new cold war conflicts which threaten to rip the world apart it faces its greatest challenge.

Fifteen can be a dangerous age for a world organization. At that age the old League of Nations began to collapse under pressures similar to those which bear upon the United Nations today. The League lacked the personal drama of a Nikita Khrushchev waving his shoe in anger before the astonished eyes of other delegates. Its troubles arose, however, from the same kind of ambitions that plague the United Nations—the ambitions of men who are determined to reshape the world to their own liking.

The United Nations may escape the fate of the League. But that will depend primarily on how far Soviet Premier Khrushchev wants to push his campaign for greater Soviet power within the organization and whether he really is determined to paralyze what he cannot control.

The organization has lost much of the promise of great achievement which attended its birth. Few even of its strongest supporters speak any longer of its growing into a kind of supergovernment with some powers—backed by its own military force—extending over the governments of individual nations. It has become in fact less a force than a forum in world affairs, less a league for building and enforcing peace than an instrument of diplomacy for the great powers.

Yet it has shown unexpected strength in dealing with the Korean crisis in 1950, the Suez crisis of 1956 and the Congo crisis of 1960. Though the organization has failed to bring peace to the world it has at least imposed some restraints on conflict. It has clearly won the support of most nations and peoples for its efforts.

The United Nations came into being at 4:50 p.m. on Oct. 24, 1945. James F. Byrnes, then secretary of state, signed a piece of paper saying that 29 nations had ratified the charter which had been signed at San Francisco the previous June 26.

Shortly before Byrnes signed, Fedor T. Orekhov, Soviet Embassy secretary, had given the State Department official notice of Soviet ratification. This Soviet concurrence was essential to bring the charter into force, the requirement being approval by a majority of the 51 original signers, including all five great powers. The other four great powers—the United States, Britain, France and Nationalist China — had already acted.

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union dominated the U. N. Charter conference and the concept of great power leadership was built into the organization from the first. That concept underlay the Security Council voting system which gave the big powers the veto. It was adopted, though many small nations protested, simply because none of the powers was willing to let the council have authority to vote sanctions against any power. The United States and Britain wanted to limit the veto to military sanctions, the Soviet Union insisted that it apply to some other issues.

The veto debate brought out sharply the key to U. N. success in later years: if the big powers preserved their wartime cooperation the United Nations would indeed become a peacekeeping organization. If the big powers split apart the United Nations would serve chiefly as what the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg called "a town meeting of the world."

The persistent hope among many of the delegations at San Francisco was that the United Nations would grow gradually into a limited world government. They wanted it to have its own military force, for which provision was made, and exercise moral and political authority.

In practice the United Nations has been able to exert authority only over those nations which would accept its decision or those nations which sought its help. Thus it played a role in ending the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt during the Suez crisis; but failed at the same time to bring the Soviet Union to heel in the Hungarian crisis.

The Soviet Union has upset veto 90 times in the Security Council. In 1950 when Moscow briefly boycotted the council the United States won quick support for intervention in Korea against Communist invasion from the north. Seeing themselves outmaneuvered the Soviets shortly returned to the council.

As a result of the Korean conflict Red China still stands branded as an aggressor by the United Nations and this fact has been used by the United States for a decade to bar Chinese Communist membership. On this as on many other issues, the Communist bloc has been consistently outvoted and the U. S. leadership in the assembly has been generally secure.

Now, however, the situation appears to be changing. The membership of the assembly has been expanded to 99 nations, many of them from Asia and Africa. Countries not allied with the United States control about 50 per cent of the U. N. Furthermore it is clear from Khrushchev's recent behavior at the assembly that he is intent upon radically altering the form of the United Nations to the Soviet Union's advantage and either making it a more pliable instrument of Soviet power or rendering it impotent as an instrument of United States power.

This turn of events has raised three dangers for the United Nations in the immediate future. One is that Khrushchev, being defeated in the United Nations, will pull out his Communist-bloc delegations and set up some rival international organization.

A second danger is that if the tide begins to run against the United States in the United Nations it will cause a new surge of anti-United Nations sentiment in the United States and bring heavy pressures on Washington to cut U. S. commitments.

The third and probably the greatest danger is that the organization will be paralyzed as a result of Khrushchev's efforts to wreck the office of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold because of Hammarskjold's work in the Congo. U. N. efforts there thwarted a Soviet campaign to take over. Khrushchev seems to have no prospect of winning U. N. support for his plan to replace Hammarskjold with a three-man executive including one Communist. But in 1963 the Soviet Union may use its veto to prevent appointment of a successor or to renew Hammarskjold's term. That would paralyze the United Nations.

You are not likely to see more than 2,000 stars on the clearest night.

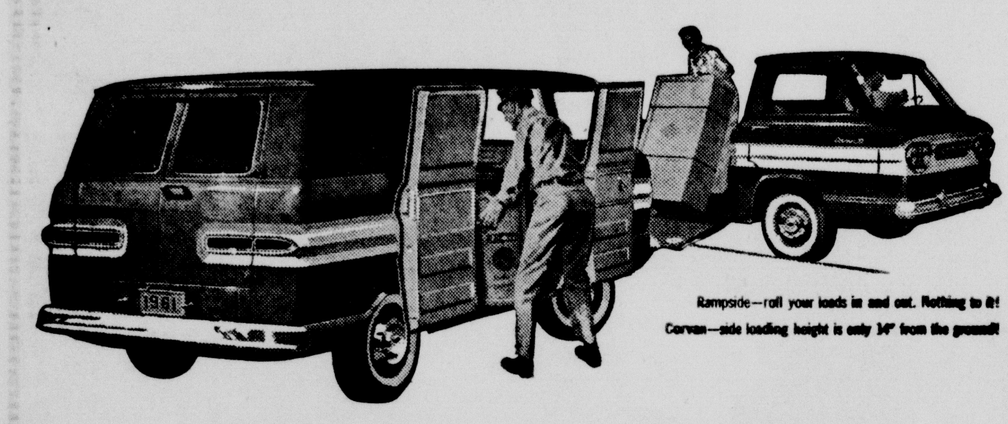
2 TOTALLY DIFFERENT TYPES OF CHEVY TRUCKS!



Rampside—roll your loads in and out. Nothing to lift!
Corvan—side loading height is only 14" from the ground!

1. REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's—THE TRUCKS THAT BEGAN WITH 4 WHEELS AND A FRESH IDEA!
That Rampside model you see is nearly two feet shorter than a conventional pickup. Yet it has over 20 cu. ft. more capacity. The Corvair 95 panel (Corvan) offers 191 cu. ft. of the most accessible load space you ever saw. Think of up to 1,900 pounds of whatever you haul riding on a highly maneuverable, light handling 95-inch wheelbase. That'll give you an idea of Corvair 95 efficiency. This is a beauty. Has 4-wheel independent suspension. An integral body-frame build. Exceptional comfort and visibility. And a thrifty air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze or radiator repairs. You've never seen trucks like these before!

2. TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS—WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!
Once around the block in this '61 and you'll never be satisfied with a front-axle truck again. The difference is that noticeable. You actually feel the advantages of independent front suspension in the almost total absence of I-beam shimmy and wheel fight. The driver rides easy, the load's better protected, tires take less abuse, the whole truck is subjected to far less damaging road shock and vibration. You find you can move faster over rough trails and off the road to get more done in a day. Efficiency goes up. Profits follow. Stop by your dealer's and look over the whole line—both types of Chevy trucks.

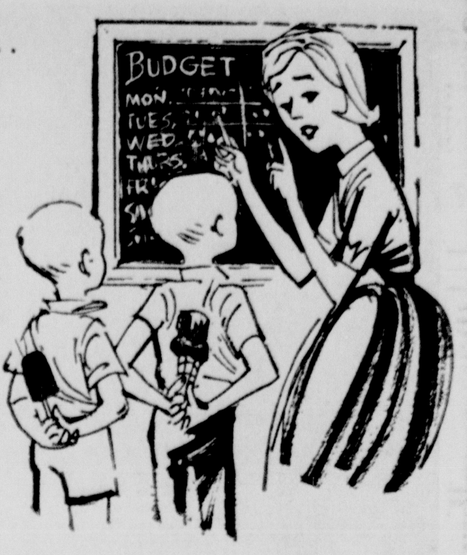
AS I WAS SAYING . . .

by Janet Henry

"Modern youth is scatter-brained,"
I read the other day.
"Our children should be budget-trained;
Economy should be explained,
And savings put away."

So, playing my parental role,
I gave my sons advice
On setting a financial goal,
And exercising self control,
And learning sacrifice.

They listened to me, wonder-struck,
For half an hour or more.
Then, as I basked in my good luck,
They heard the ice cream vendor's truck
And bounded out the door.



With The Girl Scouts

Monday evening, Oct. 24, marks the date for the official observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouts in this country, by the members of Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council.

The observance will be a Founder's Day dinner, also honoring our local founders in each community as well as Juliette Low, and will be held at 6:30 p.m. at Central Christian church, corner of West College and South Church streets in Jacksonville.

Approximately 25 founders will be guests of honor at the dinner. Some of these founders worked in Scouting when the first troop was organized in Jacksonville in 1919; some of them took part in the formation of the first Jacksonville Girl Scout Council in 1937; some of the founders to be honored Monday were on the Board of Directors in 1950 when the first experimental area council in this state was organized and named Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council to comprise four counties, Cass, Greene, Morgan and Scott.

Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, president of the Council now, will welcome guests at the dinner which will follow a reception. Mrs. Vernon Caine will introduced the founders; Mrs. Edward Anderson will give the invocation.

Mrs. William Gross, chairman of the program committee, will present the evening's program, acting as narrator with members of Senior Troops Nos. 1 and 13 giving songs and readings.

To conclude the dinner observance, Mrs. Sullivan will present a candlelighting ceremony honoring all founders of Girl Scouting.

Craft Workshop

The last craft workshop to be held this fall will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 9:30 a.m. at the Scout office. No other craft workshop will be presented until after the first of 1961. A great deal of material has been secured for this workshop and there will be two instructors, Mrs. Marguerite Dixon and Mrs. Edward Anderson. Additional registrations for this workshop will be accepted in the Scout office until Tuesday afternoon, either by telephone or by mail.

Jacksonville Neighborhood will meet Thursday morning, Oct. 27, at 9:30 o'clock at the Scout office. Mrs. Frank Clay is neighborhood chairman.

There will be a meeting of mothers of Girl Scouts in the 5th and 6th grades at Franklin school in Jacksonville on Friday afternoon, Oct. 28, at 2 o'clock.

Did you see the exhibit of Girl Scout pottery at the Home Show this past weekend at Jonathan Turner Junior high school? The pottery is some that was made at summer camp by Brownies and Intermediates who attended Camp Shagbark or camp in Greene county. The White Hall pottery firm furnished the clay and then glazed the finished objects so that a permanent result was accomplished. This pottery belongs to the girls who made the objects and the girls are urged to come to the office and pick up what she made.

National Meeting

Last week at the Scout office delegates to the National Council meeting in St. Louis on Nov. 14-18 held a training session. All delegates and one full-time visitor were present.

Any registered adult in Scouting may visit the national meeting any day she wishes simply by presenting her membership card at the registration desk at the Sheraton-Jefferson hotel in St. Louis and paying $2.

Another training session for delegates will be held Thursday morning, Nov. 3, at 9:30 o'clock at the Scout office. If you are planning to visit any session, you may want to sit in on this training session. Issues to be voted upon at the national meeting will be discussed.

We wonder what the car looks like that went through the gate at the Girl Scout Camp Shagbark at Lake Jacksonville? We are now without a gate to the premises of the camp since it was rammed by someone and broken completely in two.

A hole is to dig or is it to bury one's head in? Where have all the people been who should have been at neighborhood meetings? These neighborhood gatherings are set up for your benefit—each one costs the council the director's salary for one day, plus transportation costs, plus cost of materials involved. Are you willing to assume this expense? You can get a great deal of help with your Scouting problems by attending neighborhood meetings. Workshops are also presented to supply you with additional help.

We have a feeling in the office that many girls are in Scouting who haven't been registered. After attending four meetings a girl should register with the troop. Additions forms are available in the Scout office for this purpose. No girl should attend more meetings than four before paying her dollar and being registered.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

SOUTH WINS OVER ANY DEFENSE

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Today's hand, previously appeared as my article for Aug. 13, except that I have moved the six of clubs from the West to the East hand and the nine of clubs from the East to the West hand.

In the Aug. 13 article, excellent defense by East and West beat South at four hearts. The key play consisted of East putting up the ten of spades when the suit was led from dummy after the hand had been stripped of diamonds and clubs. Several readers thought that South could have made the hand by adopting a different line of play and with the cards placed the way they are now South can make the hand against any defense. The play is as follows:

South draws trumps with two leads and starts on diamonds.

NORTH
♠ 7 6 5
♥ K J 9 4
♦ J 7 4
♣ K 8 2

WEST
♠ K J 9
♥ 5 2
♦ A 10 9 2
♣ A J 10 9

EAST
♠ 10 4 3 2
♥ 6 3
♦ 6 5 3
♣ 7 6 5 4

SOUTH (D)
♠ A Q 8
♥ A Q 10 8 7
♦ K Q 8
♣ Q 3

Both vulnerable

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♥ 2

Wests best defense is to take the ace and lead the suit back. South plays the last diamond and leads clubs. If he leads the club from his own hand West plays the nine and dummy takes the trick with the king. A second club loses to the ace and West will lead a third club. Now South simply discards the eight of spades and claims the balance.

Why wouldn't this play have worked on Aug. 13? Because West could have hung on to the six of clubs and led it to his partner's nine.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
2 N.T.	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ K J 4 3 2 ♥ Q 4 3 ♦ K 7 5 2 ♣ 2

What do you do?

A—Bid six spades. Even though there is an ace off, at the worst there should be a finesse for this slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of going to five spades over your four no-trump your partner has bid five clubs to show all four aces. What do you do now?

U.S. Supreme Court Called In To Settle 'Blue Laws' Dispute

By SID MOODY
Associated Press Writer

This story is about Sunday—with a little Saturday thrown in.

Sunday, a rather quiet day to write about, you say? Don't let Sunday fool you.

What started out as a day of rest and worship has become a day of such heated squabbling that the Supreme Court has been called in to referee.

Cause of the rumpus is the so-called blue laws. The court agreed last August to decide during its present term on the constitutionality of blue laws in three states.

The decision—the first in this field by the Supreme Court in this century—could wipe out blue laws, uphold them or compromise.

Blue laws start at a peak of confusion in Massachusetts and gradually peter out as the Sunday traveller moves west until they subside with scarcely a murmur in Hawaii.

In Massachusetts public dancing is forbidden. But you can dance at your wedding providing you don't charge admission. It's lawful to golf on a regulation course but miniature golf is taboo.

In Hawaii, the only blue law on the blue Pacific forbids sale of bulk liquor on Sundays.

This contrast lends support to a law a student of blue laws tends to formulate: The older the state, the bluer the laws.

The last word from the Supreme Court on Sunday came—during a weekday—in 1900, when the tribunal ruled Minnesota was within its federal rights to close barber shops on Sunday.

Since the court's 1900 decision, America has changed mightily and Sunday has gone along with it. Churches are still crowded but the automobile has revolutionized the Sabbath "rest."

More than likely it's now spent behind the wheel of a car en route to mountain, lake or ocean rather than on a hammock on the porch. The lure of so many customers on the road has spurred merchants to build vast highway shopping centers that stay open Sunday.

This in turn, has brought squawks from the city merchants who habitually close Sundays.

Drug stores, generally allowed to open, have aggravated the problem because of the large number of nonpharmaceutical items they now carry.

Faced with the competition, downtown merchants have campaigned for enforcement of blue laws. They have found allies in church groups, who argue for religious reasons.

The highway operators protest that the laws discriminate against them. Jewish and Seventh Day Adventist merchants, who observe their Sabbath on Saturdays, protest that they, too, are discriminated against by having to close Sundays.

At least three states—Ohio, Maine and Texas — have compromised by permitting any storekeeper to stay open on Sunday who observes his Sabbath on another day.

But Sunday laws are, or recently have been, at issue in Virginia, Maryland, Iowa, Arkansas, South Carolina, Oklahoma, North Carolina, New York, Louisiana, Ohio, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Texas, Kentucky and New Jersey.

The cases now before the Supreme Court are typical. Plaintiff in two of them is a chain store called Two Guys from Harrison, which operates outlets in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Two Guys was found guilty of selling forbidden articles, including staples and floor wax at its stores in Glen Burnie, Md., and Allentown, Pa. The Maryland law forbids all but necessary labor and sale of anything but essentials.

Fines are up to $50 for a first offense and up to a 30-day jail term for repeaters. Under Maryland's first blue laws, an offender could be fined 200 pounds of tobacco or have a "B" burned in his forehead if he blasphemed.

Pennsylvania's law bans sale of a long list of items.

One of the two Massachusetts cases involves Harold Chernock of Springfield, who kept his Crown kosher supermarket opened Sunday but closed it Saturday. He appealed a conviction for blue law violation and was upheld 2-1 by a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The state has appealed to the Supreme Court.

"Why are they called "blue laws"?

When the Pilgrims came to the United States, Sunday was set aside for church, period.

As best can be determined, blue laws became blue in early colonial days. At that time the poorer colonists wore cotton stockings, the rich silk. The wealthy dyed their hose black, the poor used a cheap blue dye. Somehow the austerity of the laws became associated with the rough, Spartan cotton hose, hence blue laws.

Makeup Fails To Hide Campaigners' Fatigue

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Neither lighting nor makeup could conceal Thursday night that the two men campaigning for the presidency of the United States looked tired.

Actually, their fatigue seemed to show even more in their voices than in their faces during their third debate.

Although the questions ranged widely through the issues of the campaign, both the panel of questioners and candidates Richard M. Nixon and John F. Kennedy devoted the major part of their joint session to hashing and rehashing their respective positions on Quemoy and Matsu.

Both men were, as usual, deadly serious, careful in their statements and thoroughly prepared as to their positions. The joint discussion—with Nixon and the panel in Los Angeles and Kennedy in New York, was a smooth miracle of electronics. ABC, which produced the program, had been thinking of doing some tricky transcontinental camera work but settled for concentrating on the faces of the speakers. Once there was a split screen picture showing both candidates at the same time and once there was a brief picture of Kennedy listening intently to his opponent. But that was all.

By and large, the third round went off very well indeed.

Close to a year ago when revelations of fixed quiz shows and payola were in the headlines, it was pretty obvious that something had to be done about what Madison avenue called television's "tarnished image." One thing that was done was to set up, under the National Association of Broadcasters, the Television Information Office. It has been busily pointing out all the good things TV is doing in an effort to counter criticism of its violence, trashy shows, poor taste, irksome commercials.

Its most ambitious effort was unveiled today at the NAB's fall conference in Atlanta. It is 288-page book describing more than 1,000 programs and series in the public affairs area which have been dreamed up and broadcast —at the local level—by 262 stations. The idea is to provide broadcasters with a source of ideas. They range from discussion programs on politics, traffic, business declines—to adult education programs.

Arenzville Post Favors Passage Of Health Bill

ARENZVILLE — The American Legion Post 604 of Arenzville announced their support of the "Tuberculosis Care and Treatment Excess Tax Law" at their meeting held at the Legion and Community hall on October 17. The proposed law will be voted on at the November 8th election.

Mrs. Esther Morrison, Township Supervisor, appeared before the group and stated that tuberculosis has been and is still one of our country's leading public health problems. The law would not add any new taxes, but would continue to fight tuberculosis in our county, and insure the means by which our county residents who are afflicted with the disease may secure adequate hospital and nursing care.

The cost of tuberculosis is extremely high and less than four out of one hundred of those stricken with the disease can afford to pay for adequate care and treatment. "The members of our organization" stated Harlan Roegge, Commander, "realizing these factors and recogonizing the contagiousness of tuberculosis are in whole hearted support of the passage of this law at the November election."

During the business meeting the Legion members voted to have two meetings a month, on the first Thursday and third Monday of each month.

THE STORY OF I,D,E,A,
The Industrial, Developing and Experimental Association, Inc.

THE STORY OF I,D,E,A
The Industrial, Developing and Experimental Assn., Inc.

Since man invented the wheel — and possibly even before the wheel was invented! — inventors have had a hard row to hoe.

With a few notable exceptions, the greatest of our inventors had been bad businessmen. They have been so concerned with creation, and with their dreams, that they have been the natural prey of men in organizations not able for their greed, their power, their ruthlessness — and their complete lack of business morals.

As any inventor will tell you, this condition has existed for so long that inventors have regarded it as a necessary evil, a tradition, a natural occupational hazard.

I,D,E,A was organized, and incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois, as a not-for-profit corporation, to change this situation. I,D,E,A will provide the inventor, no matter how inexperienced he may be, with a source of dependable information regarding the practical value of his invention, knowing, in advance, that he will be perfectly safe in seeking such counsel.

If a given invention is favorably evaluated, I,D,E,A will assist with the patenting of the invention, if it has not already been patented, and then, working under an arrangement agreed upon as satisfactory and equitable, by both the inventor and by I,D,E,A, the production and marketing of the invention will be undertaken by I,D,E,A.

We cheerfully admit that this is an over-simplification of the functions of I,D,E,A. Actually, a staff of experts will be required to properly evaluate each type of invention offered. Other experts, in the field of production, will be required. Laboratories, test equipment, and manufacturing facilities are among the most important elements of I,D,E,A's requirements.

While I,D,E,A itself is a new thing, incorporated September, 1960, behind it are more than thirty years of hard work, careful planning, and an investment of many thousands of dollars. Now, the little group of men who have — and had — the vision, have brought to reality the organization and the incorporation of I,D,E,A. They have gone about as far as they can, and must turn to the public for financial assistance.

At this point, it is natural that you, the reader, should ask yourself why you should assist in such an enterprise.

Consider, if you will, where we would be today if Thomas Edison had not found people who were interested in his primitive, carbon-filament electric light, if Eli Whitney's idea of a cotton gin had never been put to use, if someone had not seen the usefulness of Lee DeForrest's vacuum tube, which was the granddaddy of every tube in your radio set, your television set and in every true electronic device in the world.

How many equally important inventions have not been developed to the point that they could serve mankind? No one can speak on this point with complete authority, but the chances are that for every good and valuable invention that is perfected, marketed and is thus enabled to serve mankind, a half-dozen equally valuable inventions are not developed, merely because the inventor has had, in the past, no qualified organization to turn to for understanding assistance.

With your help, I,D,E,A will change all this!

You are asked to help, whether your contribution be a few dollars, or several thousand dollars. Every penny received will be accounted for on the books of I,D,E,A, which, as we have said, is a corporation not for profit, under the laws of the State of Illinois. By participating in the work of I,D,E,A, you will be providing the inventors of this country with an opportunity to secure recognition of their genius, and also to enjoy suitable financial rewards for their work. You will be participating in an enterprise which will increase employment, for the obvious reason that as more inventions are perfected, more people will be employed to produce their new terms.

In short, you will be helping your country effectively tap, and utilize inventive genius — a commodity for which our country is world-famous, and, at the same time, a commodity which has been sadly neglected, or, if not neglected, has been promoted largely by racketeer-type individuals and organizations, whose only aim was personal profit at the expense of the individual inventor.

We invite you to investigate I,D,E,A. You, your accountant or your attorney, or all three, are invited to investigate, for we will welcome the opportunity to explain, personally and in more detail, what we have done, what we are doing, and what we hope to do.

The more you learn about I,D,E,A, the more convinced you will be that you owe it to yourself, and to your country, to help to the fullest extent of your ability.

Those desirous of contributing, please do so by check or money order made to I,D,E,A, and mail to I,D,E,A, Box 126, Winchester, Illinois. Please give your name and address in outer upper left hand corner of envelope as your name, address and amount will be kept in the books of I,D,E,A, at all times.

Duck Identification Leaflet Available Here

KNOW YOUR DUCKS, a Field Guide for the Hunter, the duck identification leaflet developed by the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, is now available, according to Victor A. Blazevic of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The leaflet is designed to help the hunter identify the most commonly sought species of ducks. It is especially appropriate at this time since two species, the redhead and canvasback ducks, are on the fully protected list. The leaflet is entirely pictorial except for a minimum amount of reading matter to point out the characteristics of each species essential to identification. The leaflet can conveniently be carried in the pocket. There is no charge.

Of the 23 species shown, there are 17 pairs, drake and hen, and 6 lone drakes. The lone drakes represent the least hunted of the 23 species. The 17 pairs are: mallard, black, pintail, widgeon, gadwall, shoveler, blue-winged teal, green-winged teal, wood duck, hooded merganser, redhead (no open season), canvasback (no open season), scaup, ringneck, goldeneye, bufflehead, and ruddy. The lone drakes show: old squaw, white-winged scoter, American scoter, surf scoter, American merganser, and red-breasted merganser.

These leaflets may be secured by hunters at 417 Lake Street, Jacksonville, Ill. or 327 Federal Bldg., Peoria, Ill.

Name Williams Comeback Player For 1960 In AL

NEW YORK (AP) — For rebounding brilliantly from his most disastrous big league season, Ted Williams Friday was named the American League comeback player of the year for 1960.

The retired Boston Red Sox outfielder received 96 of the 182 votes cast by baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll. Roy Sievers of the Chicago White Sox was named on 34 ballots and finished second.

Williams improved his batting average by 62 points the past season. He had a .316 mark along with 29 home runs when he announced his immediate retirement on Sept. 28. In 1959, he hit only .254 with 10 homers.

The 42-year-old slugger wound up his career with 521 homers and a lifetime average of .344. He won six batting titles.

PIRATES IN A BREEZE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pirates held undisputed possession of first place in the National League since May 30 with the exception of one day—July 24 — when Milwaukee took the lead by two percentage points.

YANKS RELEASE LOPAT

NEW YORK (AP) — In the first reorganization move under the new manager, Ralph Houk, the New York Yankees Friday released Ed Lopat, pitching coach.

The move was made, an official Yankee announcement said, to give Lopat an opportunity to make another major league connection.

When Mickey Mantle homered in the second game of the 1960 World Series it marked the seventh straight World Series in which he has hit at least one homer.

Friday Night Scores

Winchester 14 Pleasant Hill 7

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Wildcats picked up their second win in five starts Friday night, as they defeated Pleasant Hill in an Illinois Valley contest. The Wildcats scored in the first and third quarters to annex the victory in a rough and tough defensive battle.

The first time Winchester got the ball they marched 73 yards to score with Brockhouse going off tackle from 3 yards out for the TD. Garrison then recovered a fumble in the end zone for the point after. McGlashen intercepted a Pleasant Hill pass on his own 30 and carried the pigskin back to Pleasant Hill's 36 from where the Wildcats drove on down to score with Dolen scampering into the end zone from the 5. Brockhouse ran the extra point.

Pleasant Hill scored on its only threat of the game as Taylor Sliemberg rambled four yards for the marker. Smith ran the PAT and the scoring was completed.

Score by quarters:

Winchester	7	0	7	0
Pleasant Hill	0	0	0	7

Petersburg 18 Meredosia 14

PETERSBURG — Two winless teams which are relying on underclassmen for a year of rebuilding met at Petersburg Friday, and Petersburg squeezed by Meredosia on the strength of a bad center on an attempted punt.

John Moats, who was Petersburg's scoring hero, got the only TD of the first half on a 13 yard sprint in the second stanza for a 6-0 lead. Clarence Hannel put Dosh' into the lead with a 7 yard jaunt in the third period and the extra point via a run.

Moats passed 10 yards to Larry Hill for a touchdown in the fourth frame, but the point after was unsuccessful and Petersburg held a slim 12-7 advantage, but not for long as Benny Hannel took the kickoff following this TD and rambled 83 yards for the score and a Meredosia lead. Then late in the fourth quarter, with Dosh' deep in its own territory and forced to punt, a bad pass from center which was recovered on the 2, set up the Petersburg winning marker. Moats scored his third TD but again the PAT attempt was no good. Meredosia was still not finished as they filled the air with passes and as the game ended they had driven down to the 6 inch line but to no avail, as on the final play Petersburg held for their initial victory of the year. Butch Brauer, a 110 lb. freshman, did a fine job for Petersburg at the halfback position and was Moats' running mate.

Score by quarters:

Petersburg	0	6	0	12
Meredosia	0	0	7	7

Roodhouse 14 Carrollton 7

ROODHOUSE — The Roodhouse Railroaders defeated Carrollton for the fourth consecutive time to win their homecoming and knock the Hawks out of a share of the Illinois Valley Conference lead. Both teams did all of their scoring in the first half and dug in for a defensive battle the second half before an inspired crowd.

Coach Alex Takacs' Railroaders fumbled on the first series or downs and Carrollton recovered and began a sustained drive with Larry Brannon scoring from the five yard stripe. Atwood kicked the point after and the Hawks had their first and only lead of the game.

Roodhouse bounced right back as they started a drive of their own, which Dave Parton climaxed with a 5 yard scamper for the TD. Jameson ran the point after to knot the score at 7 all. In the second stanza Gary Whewell bounced into the end zone from the 10, to give the Railroaders their winning marker and Parton ran the PAT.

Both teams threatened in the second half with Roodhouse getting to the Hawks' 2, and Carrollton getting down to the 10, but neither could score as the defensive units held and paved the way for the scoreless second half. Both teams now have identical records of 4 wins and 2 losses.

Score By Quarters:

Roodhouse	7	7	0	0—14
Carrollton	7	0	0	0— 7

Havana 7 Cuba 0

HAVANA — The Havana Ducks picked up their third win of the year as they scored seven points in the first quarter and then hung on to whip Cuba Friday night in a non-conference affair. Marv Steging and Jim Cohee were the Havana stars as they racked up the only points of the night and led the team in tackles.

Steging scored the winning marker from 4 yards out after the Ducks had mustered a fine scoring drive. Cohee ran the extra point and it was all they needed. Cuba ran well throughout the contest but could not score and the game ended with Cuba on Havana's 5 yard stripe.

Score By Quarters:

Greenfield 31 White Hall 0

WHITE HALL — Coach Don Gustine's Greenfield Tigers continued to take the Illinois Valley by storm as they overwhelmed the ever-dangerous White Hall Maroons Friday night 31 to 0. White Hall lost their face right halfback Chapman early in the first stanza and could not muster any serious offensive threat the rest of the game. The Tigers scored in every quarter and dominated all the statistics to gain the win.

Darrell Rafferty scored twice on plunges of 1 and 3 yards and Ron Meyer got two on jaunts of 7 and 12 yards while left tackle DeQuevedo was the big hit as the popular young man intercepted a Maroon pass on the 10 yard line and lumbered into the end zone for a linemen's dream, a touchdown. Wellhausen, who is usually fairly consistent, had a rough time with his point after conversions as he got only one in five attempts. Greenfield now is undisputed leader of the IVL with a perfect 6-0 mark for the season. Their defense was outstanding and offense just as tough as they piled up 288 yards and 18 first downs to White Hall's 81 yards and one first down.

Score By Quarters:

Greenfield	6	6	13	6
White Hall	0	0	0	0

Jacks Annex Fourth Straight Shutout And 7th Consecutive Win

By STAN SPOTTS

SPRINGFIELD — Jacksonville High's Crimsons were a steady but unimpressive eleven here Friday night as they annexed their sixth straight win and their seventh over a two-season span with a 42-0 romp over Marv Schultz' Feitshans Flyers.

The Crimsons lacked their usual sharpness on blocking, especially downfield, and their tackling wasn't as precise and crisp as it has been in the past. But still their steady brand of ball was more than enough to offset the Flyers, who were punchless in all departments. Feitshans was in JHS territory only four times during the non-conference bout and only once did it threaten to score. This came on an 80 yard kickoff return to open the third period that carried to the Crimson four yard line.

The Crimsons made a goal line stand and stymied the bid for a score. JHS was impressive here and another phase of its attack that stood out was the running of Wes Coulter, Ron Yates and Gary Spangenberg, who broke loose from tackler after tackler on their way to touchdown jaunts. Pacing the defensive unit was Joe Wells, who was in on 12 tackles. Yates and Erland Thady accounted for 11 tackles apiece and John Wright and Coulter shared in eight bringdowns each. Ken Norton's kicking toe was never in better contact with the football as he booted six straight points after touchdowns.

The small turnout watched the two elevens exchange punts after Jacksonville received to open the annual grid battle. JHS put a short Flyer boot in play on the Feitshans' 34 and the first tally came eight plays later with Yates skirting right end from nine yards out for the score with 3:35 remaining. Norton accounted for 22 yards on the drive and a Bill Stanford to Jack McCarty pass for nine yards sparked the short march. Norton's first of six straight conversions gave the Crimsons a 7-0 lead.

Jacksonville's first of two touchdowns in the second quarter came on the second play from scrimmage with Spangenberg moving to quarterback and his fake pitchout and handoff to fullback Wes Coulter up the middle carried 64 yards for the score. Despite an injured knee, Coulter used brute power to ward off four tacklers on his way to paydirt.

The Crimsons put a Flyer punt in play on their own 47 and climaxed the drive five plays later with Norton going over from the three with 1:10 left before halftime. Spangenberg had 39 yards on two running plays to put the drive in gear. Norton's foot put JHS out in front at halftime, 21-0.

The Flyers got inside of JHS' 50 for the first time in the first half late in the second quarter via a spread-formation passing game but the gun halted play at Jacksonville's 31.

Second Half

Quarterback Rich Hayes brought the crowd to its feet when he took Norton's third quarter kickoff and lugged the mail 80 yards before Norton caught him on the four. The Crimsons held on four downs and gained possession on their own eight before punting out of danger four plays later. Jacksonville scored minutes later when linebacker Joe Wells deflected a Flyer pass into Ron Yates' arms and Yates went 34 yards to score but a 15 yard penalty nullified the tally.

The Jacks put a TD into operation following a Feitshans punt to their own 42. Coulter, Spangenberg and Yates took turns lugging the ball to the Flyers' 20 where QB Bill Stanford hit end Ron Tomhave for the only third period score. The 58 yard drive took seven plays and only :59 seconds remained in the stanza.

Final Touchdowns

Some fancy running combined with sheer determination gave Yates his second touchdown of the contest and the first of two in the final quarter after he had taken a pass from Stanford in the flat. The run covered 40 yards and Yates didn't give up once as he shook loose from the grasp of five opponents. Norton split the uprights for a 35-0 margin.

The Crimsons scored two minutes later on a pitchout from Stanford to Spangenberg, who displayed the same never-say-die type of run made by Yates. The tally was setup as a result of a fumbled snap on a fourth down situation and when the Flyer elected to run, Wes Coulter was waiting to "cream" him and the Crimsons took over on the Flyer 36. On the first play Stanford traveled about six yards before tossing to Spangenberg who twisted his way loose from a host of defenders.

Jacksonville almost hit paydirt again in the closing seconds as sub Larry Hacker took a pitchout around end and rambled 68 yards to Feitshans' four but the run would have been called back to the Flyer 35 as clipping had been indicated.

The loss was the sixth straight for the Flyers.

STRONG STARTER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When Art Mahaffey won his first five 1960 decisions with the Phils it brought to mind his 1959 start with Williamsport, Pa., in the Eastern League. The 22-year-old Cincinnati native won his first eight decisions with Williamsport. He then was promoted to Buffalo and compiled an 8-5 record there.

POPULATION EXPLOSION

MERIDIAN, Idaho (AP)—A crowd bigger than the town's population turned out to give Vernon Law a hero's welcome.

The Pittsburgh Pirate pitching star and World Series winner was greeted by a wild crowd estimated at 2,500. The population of Meridian is 1,800.

Howie Nunn, bespectacled 24-year-old who pitched three shutouts for Jersey City last season, will get a thorough trial with Cincinnati next spring. He had a 12-6 record and a 2.11 earned run mark.

Politics and cherries, then luncheon and wine; the long summer day passed lazily and happily, with just enough spice of excitement and anticipation to keep them awake and their conversation going.

"I was counted out of the pool last night—the Allies hadn't arrived." Luchino took a scrap of paper from his pocket as he spoke "Today and tomorrow are yours, Paolo—you've still got a chance—but it looks as if you'll win." He nodded toward Rossini.

"What if they don't come by midnight of the fifth—Monday?" he replied. "Do we draw again?"

"They've got to be here by Monday night," Paolo insisted. "Let's not even consider a further wait. By Monday they have to be here—there won't be any Germans left! The Allies'll be pulled in by the vacuum! Listen"—Paolo cocked an ear—"there goes some more German equipment up the Via Ardeatina. I'll just run down near the road to identify it if I can, for our night report." He rose and hurried away.

Tonino called down the stairs to them. "London says the Germans are evacuating Rome. But they didn't give us a credit line."

In a few minutes Paolo was back. "Only Blackshirts—some Fascist Youth, hardly more than a battalion, with German equipment, pulling out."

At half past seven Rossini went into the kitchen with Partenopa to experiment in making some coffee by roasting together seed-barley and chicory roots.

There was a violent knocking on the door; Rossini, still standing with the coffeepot in his hand, glanced at the others questionly. Paolo slipped his revolver out of his pocket and Luchino started hurriedly up the stairs to warn Tonino, whose radio ticked distantly in the silence which followed the knocking.

Rossini tiptoed quickly to the window which gave a view of the door. "It's Felice. Something's happened." He threw open the door as Luchino came down the stairs.

For a fraction of a second Felice stood in the doorway, holding the bicycle she had loaned to Livio. As Rossini took the bicycle from her and let it down on the ground, she saw Luchino on the bottom step and, running to him, buried her head in his shoulder and began to sob.

"What is it, cara? What has happened?" Luchino stroked her head tenderly.

She raised her head and spoke in a broken voice. "Luchino—it's Livio—the boy—they've killed him!"

"Felice," Luchino said, gently leading her to the sofa, "sit down with me." He looked up at the others, neither of whom had moved. "Is there a drop of whisky left?"

"I'll get it—yes." Paolo ran up the steps.

"Luchino, he died in the kitchen. On the floor. I was holding his head in my lap. Before the doctor came. It is my fault, Luchino."

• • •

"Who did it?" Luchino asked.

"He said it was Resistance boys—partisans. He only talked a few minutes. He just said, 'The Anti-Fascists . . . young men.'" She took another sip of whisky.

"Did he say why? What happened?"

"He said they 'confiscated' my bicycle—'they needed it, they said.' It was terrible, Luchino—horrible—that poor child."

"Did he say anything else?"

"He said, 'They weren't Trasteverini, Signora Principessa, or I'd have known them. They talked like San Giovannini.' And then he said, 'I'm sorry they broke your bicycle, Signora, but I didn't let them have it.'"

"You go upstairs," Rossini said. "Luchino will sit with you. You'd better spend the night here, I think."

Luchino led Felice up the steps. Neither Rossini nor Paolo spoke until they were out of hearing.

"Murderers!" Paolo's voice was bitter.

"Aren't we all responsible, too?"

Paolo stared at him a moment, a long moment. Then, with all the anger gone from his voice: "Yes, we are. Especially I am. I used a child to do a dangerous job."

"No more than Luchino and I did. After all, Paolo—and I don't want to offend you—you are really only a boy yourself. Yet your country sent you here, gave you power of life and death over lots of people. But Luchino is no longer a boy, and I am really an old man. There's Gigi, too—he was only an adolescent. You can't avenge every child."

• • •

"I didn't feel this way when they shot Gigi—why didn't I?"

"Perhaps because you shared his danger. Perhaps because your nerves were better then. . . ."

"It wasn't done by rotten thieves, pretending to be on our side. I expect every thug and gangster in Rome is posing as a partisan today . . . the easier to loot, and kill babies over an old, used bicycle. Human beings are foul—vile!"

"Oh, no. Livio wasn't. His father isn't. Nor Felice, nor Luchino, nor Mont'Alto, nor you. There are thousands of German boys, not much older than Livio—younger than you—retreating in the dark, and your aviators up there . . ." As he looked up at old rafters of the farmhouse to indicate the sky, they heard the faint hum of planes searching for targets. ". . . Those Germans and your pilots aren't foul or vile. They are just doing what their elders and their neighbors, in their conscience—right or wrong—told them to do."

"Well, some are vile—worse than hyenas." Paolo was close to tears.
